NO PHAGAN TRIAL BEFORE LAST OF JUNE DECLARES SOLICITOR

If Indictments Are Returned by Grand Jury When Bills Are Presented There Will Be No Immediate Trial

WM. J. BURNS COMING, SAYS THOS. B. FELDER

He Calls Upon the Public to Subscribe a Fund to Pay the Expense of Bringing Great Detective to Atlanta

Should the Fulton county grand jury, when it meets next Thursday or Friday, return a true bill against either one or both of the men held by the coroner's jury in the Mary Phagan murder investigation, the state will not attempt to bring them to trial before the latter part of June.

The rumors to the effect that the state would rush the trial at a special court session if Leo M. Frank or Newt Lee is indicted for the killing by the grand jury were set at rest Thursday by this statement from Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

The examination of witnesses by the solicitor continued on Thursday, and a number of witnesses in the case appeared at the solicitor's office to make statements, of which a stenographic record is kept.

In working out new theories of the crime the detectives have found no tangible evidence which has yet served to turn the authorities from the theory to which they have held practically since the beginning of the Phagan murder investigation, and it now appears that when the grand jury meets to consider the case the authorities will present no names as suspects except those of the two men who were ordered held by the coroner's jury after its exhaustive inquest.

IDENTIFICATION SLIP.

Wednesday the solicitor general ordered before him a reporter for a morning paper, who has had in his possession several specimens of the dead girl's handwriting. One of these specimens was a slip of paper on which Mary Phagan had written her name and address and the date, April 26, 1913. The slip was in the purse she usually carried, and presumably was made out by the girl for use in event it should become necessary to identify her body.

The identification slip is simply another point in the perplexing mystery, and no circumstances developed which have as yet made it appear that the slip of paper may help to solve the mystery.

While the handwriting seems to be playing an important part in the probe of the mystery, nothing has yet developed in the handwriting investigation which throws much light on the tragedy.

Attorney Thomas B. Felder is authority for the definite statement that William J. Burns, the famous detective, will in person take up the Phagan murder investigation. While Mr. Burns will not arrive in person for several weeks, Mr. Felder stated that a special investigator from the famous sleuth's New York office will be on the ground within a few days to take up the case, and Mr. Burns will come on later.

Mr. Felder has not yet raised the funds necessary to pay for the investigation by Mr. Burns, but hopes to do so by public subscription. Regarding the employment of Mr. Burns, Mr. Felder has made the following written statement:

MR. FELDER'S STATEMENT.

"The time is at hand when I deem it not only proper, but necessary, that I take the public into my confidence relative to the further proposed investigation of the Phagan murder case.

"My firm was employed by neighbors and friends of the deceased shortly after the crime was committed to aid in the preparation of the case and the prosecution thereof.

"Without intending to reflect in the slightest degree upon the vigilant detectives engaged upon the case, who seem to be doing their utmost to ferret out the mystery, it occurred to me that the magnitude of the crime justified an effort to secure the services of William J. Burns, a man with a record of success covering a period of thirty years or more—and without a single failure charged against him.

"A committee of prominent ladies of the city, distinguished for their philanthropic work, called upon me, assuring me that funds sufficient to cover the expenses of Burns' investigation could be raised by public subscription. I assured these good women of my willingness to contribute our fee, and some additional amount if necessary. I immediately got into communication with Mr. Burns, and the result of my efforts will be reflected by a cablegram which reached me by way of his New York office, which is published herewith. I feel that those interested in seeing justice vindicated, by fixing this horrible crime upon the guilty parties, whoever they may be, will be brought to condign punishment through the efforts of this distinguished detective, are to be congratulated that we have been able to secure his services.

"The fund thus far raised by the friends and neighbors of the family of deceased, and through the efforts of the good women who have interested themselves in this work, falls far short of the amount required to carry it forward. The public is therefore invited to contribute to the fund. At the conclusion of the work an itemized statement of receipts and disbursements in this behalf will be published by the press of the city for the information of the subscribers to the fund.

"In conclusion, I desire to say that in what I am doing I have the approval of the solicitor general, Hon. Hugh M. Dorsey, who will supervise and direct all work in this behalf.

"(Signed) THOMAS B. FELDER.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS SAVE MONEY AND NOT SOULS, SAYS BURROWS

Statistical Secretary of Convention Now Gathered in St. Louis, Says There Is Too Much Time Given to Money

DELEGATES WEAR STRAW HATS, DEFYING CUSTOM

Another Minister Advocates Armed Intervention of U. S. in Mexican Affairs as He Gives Stirring Address

BY REV. ALEX W. BEALER.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 15.—Dr. Lansing Burrows, the statistical secretary, shocked the convention today by giving it as his opinion that southern Baptists were devoting more time to collecting money than saving souls. He did not favor lessening the raising of money, but he did favor increasing the efforts to win souls. The greatest meeting he ever held was begun by putting to the test the cry of Malachi to bring all the tithes into the storehouse. Giving and soul winning always went together.

Dr. Burrows showed that there had been 123,471 baptisms among the churches, but this was 8,925 less than was reported last year. The astounding fact was shown that during the past year 38,182 people had been turned out of the churches of the south; still there was a net increase of 25,093.

There was a net increase in mission offerings of $70,000, and an increase in the value of church property in the sum of $11,890,463. In the face of this only three states showed a normal increase. In Georgia there was an increase of 9,000; in North Carolina 6,000, and in Tennessee 6,000. In Missouri there had been a decrease of 10,00, and the same was true of Oklahoma.

Dr. Burrows insisted that while we pushed the raising of money, we should not overlook the cultivation of the spiritual side of the work, and devote ourselves to the great work of winning the south for Christ.

The committee on finances of the foreign board recommended that the work be continued for this year on the sole base as last year, with enough additional money raised to pay off the debt on the board.

R. P. Mahon, of Mexico; J. W. Lowe, of China; A. G. Napier, of China, all missionaries of the board, urged that this should not be done, as the work would be at a standstill. Mr. Mahon said the time was approaching when the United States would make armed intervention in Mexico and then the greatest opportunity ever presented to the baptists would come.

Mr. Lowe said the revolution in China was due to the efforts of the missionaries, and now that a new day had come there, Baptists could not afford to stand still.

A. G. Napier talked about the efforts that were being made to have the Baptists affiliate with the other denominations in educational work. He showed the advantages of it as Baptists above all people could afford to teach the Bible.

From expressions coming from the audience it was seen that this plan was not favored.

Dr. Willingham explained that the board of trustees of which he was not head to affiliate in educational work in the foreign theological seminaries. This statement was greeted with hearty "amens" from the floor of the convention.

Dr. C. G. Savage, of Tennessee, broke into the discussion by saying that the First church of Nashville gave $7,000

BIG WELCOME GETTING READY FOR THE RETURN OF THE SHRINERS

A royal welcome is awaiting the return of the Shrine patrol which represented and helped to win for Atlanta the Imperial Council for 1914 at the meeting in Dallas, Texas.

Every Atlanta Shriner is back of the movement to make the welcome one long to be remembered. It is predicted that there will be 300 in line at the station as the special rolls in Saturday evening at 9:20 o'clock.

The yearly meeting of the Imperial Council is the biggest Shrine event of each year. There were other cities bidding for the 1914 meeting, but Atlanta won.

Of course the brass band will be on hand, and you can depend upon plenty of music and cheering. A short march through the principal downtown streets will help to express the appreciation of the work of the patrol during the Dallas meeting. With the patrol is the drum corps. That organization will help to make the arrival at the Terminal a lively occasion.

In Dallas the local patrol, under the command of Captain J. O. Seamans, responded and helped to win for Atlanta a distinct hit. It was cheered throughout the line of march, and from the first appearance of the Atlanta Shriner member of the patrol was determined to win the 1914 meeting for Atlanta, and throughout the council they were regaled loudly in announcing all delegates that Atlanta is the real place for such a gathering.

The special train bearing the Atlanta Shriners will reach the Terminal station Saturday evening at 9:20 o'clock. A committee of Shriners composed of Dr. M. E. Turner, T. H. Pitt, Chris Essig and Oscar Weinmeister have issued the broad call for all the local Shriners to be at the station to welcome the returning victors. Already the news of the big celebration has spread and all are fervently impressed with the move. Fezzes are expected to be worn by all who welcome the returning patrol.

THREE PRESBYTERIES FAVOR DELAY ABOUT DECISION ON UNION

Presbyteries of Xenia, Chartiers and Arkansas Valley Counsel Debate Upon Undivulged Basis of Union

WOULD SUPPRESS VICE AT PANAMA EXPOSITION

Assembly Urged to Ask Morals of Visitors Be Shielded—No Union of Mission and Church Extension Boards

Memorials requesting that no definite action be taken regarding the proposed union between the United Presbyterian church and the United States Presbyterian church (southern), were presented to the general assembly of the United Presbyterians Thursday morning at their second sesion in the Central Presbyterian church, and were referred to the standing committee on basis of union.

At the last general assembly of the United Presbyterian church the basis of union committee was created to work jointly with a similar committee of the United States Presbyterian church and report a basis upon which the union of the two could be effected. The reports of those committees have been submitted to their respective assemblies, and the contents have not been divulged.

The memorials presented to the United Presbyterian assembly came from the presbyteries of Xenia, at Dayton, Ohio; Chartiers, at Houston, Pa., and the Arkansas Valley, at Wichita, Kan. Each asked that action be deferred for one year until the next general assembly.

The Xenia memorial recited that "in the absence of definite information in reference to the basis of union prepared by the joint committee" the presbytery does "hereby express its judgment that no basis of union should be handed down in overture in assembly, which surrenders the position occupied by our church in all its past history, especially on the subject of the exclusive, divinely inspired and authorized psalmody."

The Chartiers memorial urged the assembly to "refer the basis of union as quoted to the assembly of 1914 in order that a year may be allowed for its discussion in the church."

The Arkansas Valley memorial asked the assembly to defer action on the proposed basis of union at least until the general assembly of 1914."

MEMORIAL NOT DISCUSSED.

Since the memorials were referred immediately to the special committee on basis of union, they were not discussed on the assembly floor. The sentiment of many of the commissioners, freely expressed after the meeting, favored the proposed union, and it was generally predicted that the memorials asking for delay would have little effect. However, it is said that there is a small contingent determined to make a bitter fight on the proposed union because of the secrecy of the basis adopted by the joint committee.

The committee on basis of union that will consider these memorials is composed of Dr. J. K. McChurkin, Dr. W. W. Williamson, Dr. J. C. Scouleer and T. S. McMurray.

There were about 300 commissioners present at the morning session, the first to be presided over by the newly chosen moderator, Dr. Robert M. Russell.

Immediately after the opening of the session devotional exercises, Rev. George E. Raith was elected as assistant to Dr. David F. McGill, principal clerk.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and reports of the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., pastor of the First church, of Pittsburg, who will be nominated for moderator of the U. S. assembly Thursday afternoon by John Willis Baer. Dr. Alexander comes of an old and aristocratic family and is a millionaire. Mr. Baer, who will place his name before the assembly, is president of Occident college and was at one time general secretary of the Christian Endeavor society. Rev. S. S. Palmer, D.D., will be nominated for moderator by Rev. William C. Covert, pastor of the First church, of Chicago. Dr. Palmer is pastor of the First church, of Columbus. Present indications are that Dr. Palmer and Dr. Alexander will be the principals in an exciting contest, with the possibility of a "dark horse" being nominated to add interest to the situation.

COMMISSIONERS TO U. S. A. ARE BUZZING LIKE A HIVE OF BEES OVER THE RACE FOR MODERATOR

So Declares William T. Ellis, Who Touches Up "Ecclesiastical Politics"—Some of the Serious Matters That Will Occupy the Commissioners Are Discussed by Him

By William T. Ellis

WILL the big brother's bad manners be copied by the small brothers, or will the little brothers teach the big brother how to be good?

That, in a figure of speech, is the "burning question" before the pan-Presbyterian gathering.

The big brother—the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.—is addicted to the bad habit of ecclesiastical politics. Those who feel a concern for the manners of the smaller brothers are afraid that the example set here in Atlanta may be contagious. Others, more optimistic, believe that the well-behaved little fellows will shame the big brother into better behavior.

At present the commissioners to the U. S. A. assembly are buzzing like a hive in swarming time. The lobby of the Piedmont hotel sounds like the recess of a woman suffrage convention.

Some of the volume of discussion is purely social and fraternal; mostly it is "who's who" in the moderatorial race in the U. S. A. assembly. The various candidates are themselves on hand, smiling upon all comers. No commissioner is too inconsiderable to receive a cordial handshake from the distinguished gentlemen who are expectant of the highest honor that their denomination can bestow. Doubtless much of this is unpleasant to the men most concerned, but they are the victims of a system, and of the well-meant and not always wholly disinterested allegiance of their friends.

May Get Jolted.

Nobody need be surprised if before this day is over, "the system" in ecclesiastical politics gets as severe a jolt as was given to the Republican national organization last year. The rank and file of the commissioners are heartily sick of this government by caucus, and do not hesitate to say so. For it is no figure of speech to say that the separate parties have been holding caucuses, apportioning work for their lieutenants, and laying plans to capture the assembly. The commissioners will be genuinely glad of an opportunity to rebuke this sort of thing by voting for some "dark horse"—even so does the lingo of politics dominate the church.

This is the day of insurgency in all ecclesiastical bodies. The United Brethren are holding their convention in Decatur, Ill., and their organ, "The Religious Telescope," in its current issue, prints a significant cartoon, showing the special car containing the ecclesiastical politicians sidetracked 500 miles from the convention, under general orders from the United Brethren laymen.

Nothing could be more certain than that the Presbyterian church in the U. S. will never have organic relations with the U. S. A. body until open and shameless ecclesiastical politics have been abolished—

DR. T. S. CLYCE RETIRES AS SOUTHERN MODERATOR

United States Assembly Opens at North Avenue Church, Successor Unknown

At the first session of the Southern Presbyterian assembly held Thursday morning at North Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. T. S. Clyce, D.D., president of Austin college, Sherman, Tex., delivered his farewell sermon as moderator of the United States assembly. His successor will be chosen at the afternoon session, which commences at 2:30 o'clock.

Long before 10:30, the hour set for the program to commence, the edifice was filed with commissioners and visitors here for the assemblies and the great joint conferences which commence Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium-armory.

Dr. Clyce preside at the exercises for the last time as moderator of the southern assembly. In the pulpit with him was Dr. Richard Orme Flynn, pastor of the church.

Following the organ prelude and doxology, Dr. Clyce caled the assembly to order. The exercises were purely devotional, consisting of the singing of hymns, scripture readings, prayer and special music by the choir.

After the sermon of the retiring moderator, the comunion service was held in accordance with a special order of the last assembly.

Who the successor to Dr. Clyce will be is not only a matter of conjecture but is unknown among the Southern Presbyterians. No name had been put forward and it was generally understood that no mention of any probable candidate would be made until the reconvening of the assembly at 2:30 p. m.

Prominent members of this assembly were emphatic in their declaration that

METHOD OF PROCEDURE.

To facilitate business, the assembly is divided into twenty-two electing sections. The members of each section are seated in a group together, with a placard raised above them to denote their number, similar to the grouping of state delegations in a national party convention. The members of each section are expected to occupy their own seats during the business sessions.

The afternoon session will begin with the calling of the roll, which, owing to the size of the assembly, will consume about 40 minutes. Then will

UNDERWOOD PREPARES COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS

Clark, of Florida, Slated for the Public Buildings Chairmanship

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Representative Underwood, of Alabama, Democratic leader of the house; Representative Mann, of Illinois, Republican leader, and Representative Murdock, of Kansas, Progressive leader, are conferring on the preliminary plans for the assignment of members to the various committees. Both the minority leaders will soon submit their recommendations to Mr. Underwood.

The proportion of minority representation on the various committees to be allowed by Mr. Underwood is satisfactory to the leaders of the other two parties. The ways and means committee, one of the five already named, comprises fourteen Democrats, six Republicans and one Progressive, and about the same proportion of representation of the majority and minority will be observed in the other important committees. The ways and means committee majority will be called together early next week to work on the committee assignments.

Representative Burnett, of Alabama, will retain the chairmanship of the immigration committee, it is understood, leaving Representative Clark, of Florida, an aspirant for the chairmanship of the public buildings committee, of which Mr. Burnett has been acting head since the elevation of Morris Sheppard, of Texas, to the senate.

A lively fight is on for place on the rivers and harbors committee, of which Representative Sparkman, of Florida, will remain chairman in all probability. Representatives Murray, of Massachusetts, and Mahan, of Connecticut, want to be the New England members, and Representative Kettner, of California, the Pacific coast representative on the committee. Representatives Hamilton, of Ohio; Kenop, of Wisconsin; Dupree, of Louisiana, and McKellar, of Tennessee, are mentioned as preferring rivers and harbors assignments.

Representative Slayden, of Texas, would have to give up the chairmanship of the committee on library, if he remains a member of the military committee, of which he is next in rank to Representative Hay, of Virginia, who will retain the chairmanship. If Mr. Slayden gives up the library chairmanship, Representative Townsend, of New Jersey, may fall heir to the place.

Representative Lever, of South Carolina, will get the chairmanship of agriculture, a foregone conclusion for months. Most of the present chairmen of the big committees will remain.

CLARKSTONIANS PULL FOR STREET CAR FRANCHISE

Citizens Ask Council to Grant Charter to Georgia Railway and Power Company

CLARKSTON, Ga., May 15.—At a mass meeting held here Tuesday evening the question of granting a franchise through the town of Clarkston for the new electric line from Atlanta to Stone Mountain was discussed at length, and the following resolution, introduced by Ed L. Sutton and John R. M. Dillon, was passed with practically a unanimous vote:

"Resolved, That the city council of Clarkston be requested to grant to the Georgia Railway and Power company a franchise on any street they may select, the conditions to apply same as the proposition made to council Monday night, May 12, by the Georgia Railway and Power company, and that the same conditions apply on any street chosen.

The council has not heretofore granted the franchise asked for by the Georgia Railway and Power company because of legal technicalities in connection with the Georgia railway right-of-way. The people of Clarkston as well as the town government are in hearty accord with the electric line project, and just as soon as legal difficulties can be overcome will cooperate fully with the Georgia Railway and Power company.

THREE STATES TO PROBE DYNAMITE EXPLOSIONS

Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia Will Investigate Causes

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, May 15.—Frequent explosions of dynamite and powder in western Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, and attempts to explode heavily-filled magazines, are causing anxiety, and a joint state investigation is a probability. Since last Saturday more than ten persons have been killed, scores have been injured, some fatally, and much property has been ruined.

The epidemic of accidents began last Saturday, when 500 sticks of dynamite exploded in the magazine of the Sunshine Coal and Coke company's mine near Masontown, Pa., resulting in the death of four and injury of two score.

Yesterday, 1,700 pounds of dynamite and 70 kegs of powder stored in the magazine of the Consolidated Coal company at Eckhart, Md., let go. Three were killed and a dozen injured.

Last Monday an attempt was made to blow up the Brownsville-Uniontown passenger train at Lackrone, Pa. A track walker found nine sticks of dynamite placed under the joints of the rails of the Monongahela railroad. A jar would have exploded the dynamite. Within 75 yards of the railroad was the plant of the Cameron Powder company, containing 20,000 pounds of powder and 500 pounds of dynamite.

They said they could do nothing for me; said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

FOURTEEN ARE KILLED IN NEBRASKA TORNADO

Seward, Tomaro and McCool Junction Swept by Twisting Wind Over Night

(By Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., May 15.—Reports early today show that the tornado which formed in the southern part of Seward county last night took a toll of fourteen lives, injured forty persons and destroyed property valued at $250,000.

At least three towns—Seward, Tomaro and McCool Junction—suffered from the elements, the greatest destruction being at Seward, where eight persons were killed and many injured. At Tomaro four lives were lost and much property destroyed. At McCool Junction two deaths occurred.

The property loss in Seward is estimated at $100,000. The tornado apparently originated southwest of McCool Junction, and, gathering force as it moved to the northeast, struck with full force both at Tomaro and Seward.

The storm crossed this city near the southern limits, but its strength had been so far spent that the damage done here was nominal. Many Omahans sought refuge in cellars and other places considered tornado proof.

FISH WARDENS REPORT A GUN PLAY AT STONE MT.

Unknown Fired Into Camp Tuesday at Venable's Pond, They Report

At Venable's pond, near Stone Mountain, in DeKalb county, Tuesday night unknown persons opened fire upon Game Warden E. L. Waggoner and his deputy, Albert Johnson.

A report of the shooting was made over long distance telephone to State Game Commissioner Mercer Tuesday morning. Warden Waggoner informed Commissioner Mercer that he and his deputy had established a camp on the side of the pond in order that they might apprehend the violators of the law. He said that Tuesday night persons unknown to him fired five shots into the camp, but fortunately neither he nor his deputy was injured.

Mr. Mercer leaves Atlanta Wednesday evening for Milltown, Berrien county, where he will acquaint himself with the facts in the alleged wholesale violation of the game law near that place. He will be accompanied by Deputy Warden M. F. Bolsclair, who made the orginal investigations and who swore out a number of warrants for illegal fishing in the big 8,000-acre pond known as the Banks estate, near Milltown.

MRS. KEEFER'S ATTORNEYS CAN SUE FOR THEIR FEE

Intervention Is Withdrawn—Divorce Suit Not Their Recourse, Says High Court

The state supreme court Wednesday morning sustained Judge John T. Pendleton, of the Fulton county superior court, in declining to permit the attorneys for the plaintiff in the divorce suit of Mrs. Grace Mary Keefer vs. D. H. Keefer, a well-known attorney of Atlanta and New York, to intervene in the suit after the principals had become reconciled and sought to have the suit dismissed.

Evins & Spence, of Atlanta, were Mrs. Keefer's lawyers. In the original suit for divorce alimony of $250 a month and counsel fees of $2,000 was asked by Mrs. Keefer. The suit was brought on January 20, 1912, and on April 19 of that year the Keefers were reconciled, and asked that the suit be dismissed and that the receiver who had been appointed to administer Mr. Keefer's Fulton county property be discharged.

Judge Pendleton granted the petition. Attorneys Evins & Spence, not having received their compensation, sought to intervene, and being denied this privilege carried the case to the supreme court.

In its opinion the higher court calls attention to the fact that both Mr. and Mrs. Keefer have considerable property in Fulton county and by inference intimates that the attorneys are afforded sufficient opportunity to substantiate their claims in a court of equity.

CONVICT GETS LEAVE TO ATTEND WIFE'S FUNERAL

Steve Tompkins, a white convict, serving twenty years at the state prison farm for manslaughter, has been accorded permission by Governor Brown to attend the funeral of his wife at Alamo, Wheeler county, Wednesday or Thursday.

Early Wednesday morning, Tompkins learned that his wife was dead. Through the warden he petitioned the prison commission to allow him to attend the funeral, and the commission referred the request to Governor Brown.

It is customary for the governor to grant such requests, the only condition being that the prisoner shall be accompanied by a guard and that he or his family shall defray both his own and the guard's expenses. Tompkins was received at the farm in December, 1912, from Laurens county.

MEADOWS CHOSEN HEAD OF DALTON'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DALTON, Ga., May 15.—Mr. C. D. Meadows, for five years principal of the grammar schools of Rome, was Wednesday elected superintendent of the Dalton public school system by the board of education. Superintendent Lucas not being an applicant for re-election, Mr. Meadows election was unanimous.

The board decided to add an eleventh grade to the public high school, raising the curriculum and doing away with the graduating class of this year. All teachers were re-elected except Miss Hattie Thomas, who has been teaching at Union Point, being added to the force of teachers. Schools will close here May 30.

To The Young Expectant Mother

Women of Experience Advise the Use of Mother's Friend.

There is some trepidation in the minds of most women in regard to motherhood. The longing to possess is often contradicted by the fear of distress.

But there need be no such dread in view of the fact that we have an effective remedy in what is known as Mother's Friend. This is an external application that has a wonderful influence and control over the muscular tissues of the abdomen. By its daily use the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments all gently expand without the slightest strain; there is no pain, no nausea, no nervousness; what was dreaded as a severe physical ordeal becomes a calm, serene, joyful anticipation.

In almost every community there are women who have used Mother's Friend, and they are the ones that recovered quickly.

Mother's Friend is prepared after the formula of a noted family doctor by the Bradfield Regulator Co., 258 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write them for their instructive book to expectant mothers. You will find Mother's Friend on sale by all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

12,000 yds. of 10c to 25c Pretty Val Laces at 6c

10c to 25c laces for 6c. The statement is trite. We feel it. We know that 3 and 4 yards of wanted laces for the usual price of 1 yard is a merchandising scoop—an achievement that calls for all the red ink in the bottle and all the large type in the printer's case.

But why indulge in hysteria? The mere statement over Rich's name is sufficient. You know it is true. The laces are in the window for you to see; at our counters for you to handle—we know you will appreciate the BARGAIN just as much as though we had shrieked it in a page of box car letters.

The laces are an importer's close-out lot. Identical laces from the same importer have sold over our counters for 15c and 20c; not a yard is worth less than 10c; some are worth 25c. Variously in white and real tints, edges and insertings to match. Widths from 1¾ to 4½ inches. There are—

WYLIE SMITH IN TOWER; TO ANSWER INDICTMENT

Elusive Fugitive Brought Back Wednesday From Two Years in Mexico

As thin as a shadow, J. Wylie Smith, president of the Commercial Loan and Discount company, returned Wednesday night to Atlanta from Mexico, where he has fought and starved with the army of Diaz. His return was foretold exclusively by The Journal.

He was imprisoned in the Tower to await trial on the charge of forgery.

He refused to talk at the time of his arrival, and his first request after his imprisonment was that no one should see him. He wished to rest and be absolutely alone in his cell in the Tower.

Wylie Smith weighs scarcely 100 pounds and is little more than an invalid. He is emaciated, his face is seamed with wrinkles, and his step is halting.

HAS UNDERGONE PRIVATION.

He is but a shadow of the man who fled from Atlanta two years ago. During the time since his indictment for forgery and his flight to Mexico he has suffered privation upon privation.

He has undergone the dangers of guerilla warfare in Mexico, he has seen the inside of Mexican jails, and he has been both starved and wounded.

At the time of his arrival Wednesday night at 11:40 o'clock from New Orleans he still wore the khaki uniform of the Diaz soldiers, that uniform in which he has fought in order to avoid the Pinkerton men who have been upon his heels from the moment he touched Mexican soil.

"I've nothing to say," he remarked, wearily. "I need to rest, not talk."

Clearly, he does. When he started from Juarez to Atlanta his strength was so far gone that he had to be carried to El Paso.

At the time of the insurrection he was wounded and, being improperly attended, his wound failed to heal and his strength slowly declined. When it seemed that his death was but a question of days, T. M. Hamilton persuaded him to return to Atlanta.

INDUCED TO RETURN.

For several months Mr. Hamilton had been in correspondence with Smith, urging him that the wisest course was to leave Mexico.

When he found himself so weakened by his wound and by sickness, the man who has been hunted for two years decided that he would return; and, after being borne across the border into El Paso, Tex., he placed himself in Mr. Hamilton's hands.

Pinkertons had arrested him frequently since his arrival in Mexico, but they failed in each effort to extradite him. As a soldier of Diaz, he was beyond their reach.

They could lay hands on him at any moment, and they were equipped with sufficient warrants, but Mexico refused to authorize extradition, and Wylie Smith returned to Atlanta merely because he wished to do so.

At the time of his arrival he was still a free man. Mr. Hamilton, who had induced him to return, was a companion upon the trip from Mexico, but he had no warrant and was not an officer in charge of a prisoner.

Of his own free will, Smith stepped from a train and gave himself up to City detectives Sturdivant and Davis, who took him to the Tower in a cab.

SHOWERS ARE FAVORING CROPS IN GEORGIA

Corn and Cotton Held Back by Drouth About Three Weeks

ATHENS, May 15.—Reports from agents in demonstration work in almost sixty-five counties of Georgia, received at the Georgia State College of Agriculture, state that local showers have helped crop conditions where they have fallen, but most of the state has been invisited by rains for nearly a month during which time much of the cotton and corn have been planted.

Corn is generally reported in much better condition than cotton, the latter being bitter and the growth more satisfactory. Wheat has suffered least and is generally reported promising.

The oat yield has been reduced materially, perhaps 40 per cent over what was promised a month ago, by both the drouth and the rust. Where harvesting has begun, however, reports show that the damage has not been as heavy as was anticipated. Farmers generally are planting to sow peas and velvetbean to recoup the oat loss on ground from which oats are being taken.

With good general rains the situation will not prove as bad as these adverse reports would indicate. Better stands of corn and cotton may be had after the rain that has been expected. Lack of moisture may simply mean that germination and growth has been held back about three weeks. Soil preparation has been better on the average and the fertilizer bills indicate that with good weather the year may prove after all a fair one for corn and cotton.

POLICE ARE AT PICNIC; GREAT TIMES THURSDAY

It took two special trains to carry the big crowd of people to the police picnic Thursday, at Warm Springs, Ga. They left the union depot between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, in the morning, and are scheduled to leave for home between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

The recorder's court was adjourned Wednesday afternoon until Friday in honor of the event, which is an annual affair and is given yearly for the benefit of the Police Relief association.

Because of the fact that the city is obliged to have the services of the majority of the police force, only a limited number of patrolmen were allowed the privilege of attending the picnic, and they drew lots for their chance.

The prize waltz will probably be the biggest event of the day. Prizes will be given to both ladies and gentlemen for the most graceful dancers. There will be three prizes, a first, second and third, in each case.

Chief Newport, himself, of the city detective department, left with the crowd.

WRESTLING BOUT IN HOTEL ROOM FINISHED IN JAIL

Two wrestlers of the vaudeville stage decided to practice a bit in their room at the Child's hotel at an early hour Wednesday morning, with the result that the other guests thought the roof was coming down over their heads, called the police and had the actors hailed into court Wednesday morning.

G. M. Filly, a Japanese, and F. D. Cochran, an American, were the wrestlers. They stated to the recorder that they had merely decided to find out which was "the best man." The bout started in a friendly humor, they declared, but after tipping over a washstand and a couple of chairs, they went at it in dead earnest.

The racket awoke nearly everyone in the hotel. Officer Turner responded to the call for aid and "jugged" the roughhousers.

Cochran was fined $15.75 by the recorder and Filly $10.75. They both admitted having drunk freely of "blind tiger" whisky before the bout started.

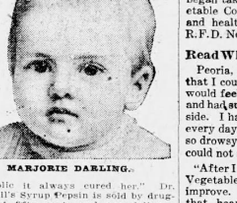
Foods That Bind Little Children

Start Them Off Right with a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Diet

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can defer tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Darling, R. F. D. No. 4, Belleview, Pa., who writes: "I certainly think Dr. Calwell's Syrup Pepsin saved my baby's life. Marjorie is a bottle baby and could not get her food to digest, but I found by giving her a small dose of Syrup Pepsin when she had colic it always cured her." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar—a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.



MARJORIE DARLING.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-gripping and free from injurious ingredients.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—on a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

EAST POINT POLICEMAN IS FOUND DEAD ON BEAT

J. C. Cash Believed to Have Dropped Dead From Natural Cause

J. C. Cash, an East Point policeman, was found dead Thursday morning on Main street in front of the Citizens' bank in East Point.

Pending the arrival of Coroner Paul Donehoo, no examination of the body had been made at 8 o'clock, and therefore the cause of death was not known at that hour.

However, the indications are that he dropped dead from some natural cause while walking his beat.

The body was discovered at 4:30 o'clock by Ed Thrailkill, a truck farmer, on his way to Atlanta.

Mr. Thrailkill at once notified B. Phillips, a telegraph operator in a switch tower across the street, and Mr. Phillips notified the East Point chief of police, J. W. Miller.

The body was taken to Hemperly's undertaking establishment to await the coroner.

The dead man leaves a wife and three children, and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cash, of Ben Hill, and by several brothers.

MISSING GIRL'S BROTHER SEARCHING; CLEW REFUSED

J. W. Mann, a brother of Ella Kate Mann, whom J. L. Wimbish, of 777 Ashby street, is accused of having eloped with, left the city for Columbus, Ga., in search of his sister.

Wimbish, who is now locked up in a cell at the police station, pending his trial, will not tell where the young woman is, but admits that she is alive and well. The girl's brother left with a note from Chief of Police James L. Beavers to the chief of police at Columbus.

Since Wimbish was arrested and charged with bigamy, the family of the young girl have been very anxious to hear from her. They are uneas concerning her.

WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARLING, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

Read What Another Woman says:

Peoria, Ill.—"I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a horrid feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night.

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backache was less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured.

"You may publish this if you wish."—Miss CLARA L. GAUWITZ, R.R. No. 4, Box 62, Peoria, Ill.

Such letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

SALARY LAW INVALID, IS SUPREME COURT'S DICTUM

Fulton County Measure Transgressed Upon Some Technicality

The state supreme court late Wednesday afternoon handed down a decision in which it held as unconstitutional the law which put the officials of Fulton county on a salary system basis. As a result of this decision all the county officials will revert to the fee system of compensation and will collect from the county treasury all back fees which have accrued since the salary law became effective on January 1.

In holding the law void the supreme court reverses Judge J. T. Pendleton, of the Fulton county superior court, who sustained the law by his decision in the mandamus action brought by the Fulton county commission to compel Tax Collector A. P. Stewart, Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead and Ordinary John R. Wilkinson to furnish it with statements of the sums required to conduct their offices under the salary system.

The grounds upon which the higher court holds the law unconstitutional are that although it was passed by the legislature as a general act it was in reality a special act applying in effect to only one county in the state. A special act, under the guise of a general act, according to the supreme court, contravenes the state's constitution.

All county officials, with the exception of the three named, accepted the law and were put on the salary system on January 1. Messrs. Stewart, Armistead and Wilkinson contended that the law was unconstitutional and, therefore, declined to furnish statements of the amounts needed to place their offices on a salary basis.

UNANIMOUS DECISION.

The decision of the supreme court was written by Justice Atkinson and was concurred in by all of the justices. In part the court says:

"The act of August 22, 1911 (Acts 1911, p. 186), touching the salaries of certain county officers, while employing certain general terms, is so hedged about with provisions, restrictions and limitations that it is in reality a special act; and being in regard to a subject for which provision had previously been made by an existing general law, it is invalid. The act being unconstitutional, it was error to grant a mandamus to compel certain officers of Fulton county to file reports with the county commissioners, as therein provided.

"It is declared in article 1, section 4, paragraph 1 of the constitution (civil code, section 6391), that 'laws of a general nature shall have uniform operation throughout the state, and no special law shall be enacted in any case for which provision has been made by an existing general law.' A general law may be repealed or modified by another general law, but it cannot be repealed or modified by a special or local law.

GENERAL OR SPECIAL?

"If the act under consideration is a general law, it is valid as against the contention that it violates section of the constitution above quoted. If it is a special or local law dealing with a subject as for which provision has already been made by an existing general law, then it is in conflict with that section and invalid. The question, therefore, as whether the act under consideration is a general or a special law. Has it uniform operation throughout the state? It does not purport to apply to all counties in the state, but only to such as meet a certain description."

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "I of course I recommend Foley Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by all dealers.—(Advt.)

Sues for Divorce

Inhuman and cruel treatment are the basis of a suit for divorce led in the superior court Wednesday by Mrs. Laura Cofield against her husband, Oscar Cofield. The petitioner alleges that at one time she had to appeal to neighbors for help, as her husband had left her and their four-year-old child without wood with which to cook a meal. She asks for the custody of their boy, Clyde, and for alimony.

Maiden Lady Sees One Empty Shoe Under Bed; Wow! Calls Fire Dept.

Some maiden lady who lives near the corner of Walker and Haynes streets (and modesty forbids even a guess at her age) became so frightened when she spied what appeared to be a man's foot under her bed Saturday night about 7:30 o'clock that she turned in the fire alarm, after arousing the neighborhood with her cries for "help," "police," etc., as she made her way across the street to pull the box in front of the Walker Street school.

The fire department responded, of course, and the first on the scene was Chief Cummings in his "Red Devil." The only excitement he saw was the woman, who was almost hysterical. "It's in there!" she screamed, as she pointed to the house where she roomed. Then the firemen followed, though there was not even a scent of anything burning, much less a rift of smoke or even a tiny blaze.

All the firemen saw was a perfectly orderly room, with the exception of one big tan shoe (evidently made for a bold man) that lay under the bed. It had not even a foot in it, and it was alone. It had no mate.

"But, chief, you don't know how it frightened me," the woman tried to explain. "I thought, of course, it was a burglar."

Chief Cummings promised not to tell this story, but it just leaked out from headquarters anyway.

LAKEWOOD PARK OPEN FOR SUMMER SEASON

New Dancing Professor, and Swimming in Charge of an Expert

Lakewood park has opened for the summer season with a general improvement of the old attractions and with some new attractions which promise to be very popular.

Among the latter is the dancing pavilion, which, though it is not new, has been reorganized under new direction. It is now in charge of a dancing professor from New York, who is ably assisted by four musicians. There will be dancing lessons in the afternoon and evening, and the pavilion will be open during those hours.

The swimming is under the direction of Prof. Schlomberg, an expert instructor and life-saver who will be on the job all the time. He will give lessons to beginners and will keep a boat at hand for the safety of the swimmers.

The boats have been repaired and repainted and there is a fast motor boat which makes regular trips around the lake.

TWO ARE KILLED WHEN A LOCOMOTIVE TURNS OVER

Authorities Investigating the Wounds of Dead Engineer. Flagman Also Met Death

Upon the request of Dr. Pace, of Smyrna, city detectives are making an investigation to ascertain if there is anything unusual or suspicious in connection with the wounds which resulted in the death of Engineer R. B. Brooks, who was killed Wednesday night in the wreck of a Seaboard Air Line train near Rice's station.

Dr. Pace, who made a casual examination of the engineer's body Wednesday night before it was brought to Atlanta, telephoned Police Chief Beavers Thursday morning and suggested that he detail a detective to meet him at the undertaking establishment of Greenberg & Bond. The physician mentioned something about a suspicious wound in the side of the engineer, and stated that he desired to make a more thorough examination of the body.

Detective Bullard was dispatched to the undertaking establishment, and at 9:30 a. m. was there awaiting the arrival of Dr. Pace.

The undertakers report that Engineer Brooks's chest is badly crushed, that he is seriously scalded about the lower limbs and that his left leg is fractured. They are of the opinion that the injuries to his chest resulted in death.

STORY OF WRECK.

Engineer R. B. Brooks, 56 Catherine street, and J. T. Allen, who recently moved here from Alabama, were killed in a wreck on the Seaboard Air Line railroad near Rice's station Wednesday night, when the unattached engine which they were running turned over as it rounded a curve.

The flagman was dead when he was taken from under the wreck, and the engineer, who was suffering terribly from scalds by escaping steam, died on his way to the Atlanta hospital. Lem Heard, a negro fireman, was badly injured, and is now in a serious condition at the Fair Haven hospital.

The first to reach the wreck was a man who gave his name as R. G. Burns, and who stated further that he was a tramp. He was found doing his best to get the pinioned engineer from under the big engine, where a stream of steam was playing over his body. The tramp was assisted later in his rescue by passengers from the Birmingham train which had been flagged up the road by a farmer. When the engineer was finally gotten out, the heroic tramp fainted from burns that he had sustained in his efforts, and he was taken to the Atlanta hospital, where he will be for a couple of days. His burns were painful but not serious.

When the passengers of the flagged train reached the locomotive they thought Burns was one of the ill-fated crew, but he promptly told them to help him get the engineer out, saying that he was "nothing but a hobo," and that the man under the engine was the one that needed their help. The tramp said that he was walking down the tracks when he heard the wreck, and hastened to investigate.

The man who flagged the passenger train, and who probably saved many from being injure and probably killed, said that his name was Hall and that he was a farmer. The passengers promptly made up a purse for him.

It took a derrick of the wrecking crew to lift the engine from the ground before the mangled form of the flagman could be reached. He was past all human aid then.

An examination of the tracks showed that the rails were in good condition, and the cause of the wreck is a mystery. The only explanation is that the engine running with only the tender was probably going too fast to take the sharp curve. As the two white men who were on it are dead, and the negro fireman is in such condition that he cannot talk, it is hard to find out just exactly what did happen to cause the engine to jump the track.

The bodies of both the engineer and the flagman were removed to the undertaking place of Greenberg & Bond Co. on Houston street. Engineer Brooks was the son of R. L. Brooks, for over thirty-five years an engineer on the same road. He was thirty years of age and unmarried. Flagman Allen was also a single man and thirty-two years of age.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The dead engineer is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brooks; three brothers, Harry, Joe and Cecil; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Zimmerman and Miss Amy Brooks, all of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held at Greenberg & Bond's chapel Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Thomas, pastor of the East Point Presbyterian church. Interment will be in Atlanta Park cemetery.

A delegation from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which Mr. Brooks was a member, will be the pallbearers.

A MIDNIGHT VIEW OF THE WRECK THAT KILLED TWO

This flashlight photograph shows the locomotive which left the rails on a curve in a cut near Rice's station on the Seaboard Air Line Wednesday night, killing the engineer, R. B. Brooks, and a flagman, J. T. Allen who was riding in the cab, and so badly injuring the negro fireman that he has not given any account of how it happened. The flagman was ground into the bank and his body was extricated just at the upper left corner of the cab roof. The engine was running with nothing but its tender at the moment. A "hobo," who gave his name as R. G. Burns, was the hero of the occasion, being badly scalded in his efforts to save the engineer from escaping steam.

ATLANTIC BEACH

THE NEW CITY BY THE SEA

That Section of the Great Southeast included in Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida is increasing in wealth more rapidly than any other part of the United States. Wealth brings leisure and the right to enjoy the things that wealth can buy. It makes possible the ownership of summer homes in nature's charming spots, where the owner of wealth or of moderate means may pass weeks or even months of each year in genuine rest and recreation.

Hundreds of such retreats are being built each season by southern men and women, and it is not a matter of large expenditure either.

NOW, do you realize that Atlantic Beach, on the east coast of Florida, is more convenient, more easily and quickly reached from Atlanta and all centers west and north of it in Alabama and Tennessee, and from middle and south Georgia towns, than any other resort city on the Atlantic Coast?

Do you know that at Atlantic Beach, surrounding the splendid resort, the Atlantic Beach Hotel, formerly The Continental, a new city is growing up like magic, fully equipped with every modern convenience and necessity?

Do you realize that this new city by the sea is the most important purely civic development ever undertaken in the South, and one of the most important in the entire country?

Do you realize that you may build your summer home here and surround your family and yourself with every comfort that you have in your winter home?

This new city---and it is substantial and permanent, not a mere seaside summer resort---is located by the finest ocean beach on the Atlantic Coast. It offers you a home ready soon for your occupancy, or a site for a home that you may create for yourself, overhanging the ocean itself, or back among the great oaks, palms and magnolias--there are no more beautiful surroundings anywhere. You may occupy your home here for three or six months of the year and rent it for the other six.

You are studying over the question--How and where shall I spend my vacations? Now ask yourself the other question, and ask it seriously--Why not come to Atlantic Beach? Why not have here a permanent home where you may come at any and all seasons for rest and recreation? Do you know a really good reason why you should not come here, rather than go to any other place? Nowhere else can you get closer to nature, and in a briefer time get again into touch with the busy outside world.

You can get much help to answer these queries if you will visit Atlantic Beach and for yourself see these wonderful developments, find out how exactly they will fit in with your wishes and ideals. You will get a great deal of assistance if you will write for information. The matter is so important that you will make a mistake if you don't investigate it carefully.

COUNTY PREPARES FOR RETURN TO FEE SYSTEM

Gen. Clifford L. Anderson Introduces Resolution at Board Meeting Looking to This

As a result of the state supreme court's decision knocking out the Fulton county salary system law, General Clifford Anderson Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the board of county commissioners, introduced resolutions designed to restore the fee system for county officials.

These resolutions provide for the repeal of all resolutions previously adopted and having for their purpose the placing of the various county offices on a salary system.

The abolishing of the office of county auditor, which was created in the dead law, and which has been held since the first of January by Alonzo Richardson, who has been receiving a salary of $250 per month.

They provide for an accounting of the balances of the various county offices for the present year, so that accruing fees may be reimbursed to the officials. A date will be determined when all of the supplies and materials purchased shall be charged to each office.

The resolutions also provide that the plan of the county feeding the prisoners at the Fulton county jail shall be continued in effect until an opinion can be secured from Attorney General Slaton as the authority of the commission to make this a permanent policy.

Prior to the time the salary law became effective the sheriff was allowed 45 cents per day for feeding each prisoner. The cost under the new plan is said to have been about 11 cents for each prisoner.

The Anderson resolution was adopted by the county board.

EXCEPTIONS IN COTTON CONTROVERSY DISMISSED

701 Bales Alleged to Have Been Damaged en Route From Atlanta to Liverpool

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 15.—The exceptions to a libel in admiralty filed by the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company against 701 bales of cotton in the famous Atlanta controversy, were dismissed yesterday by Judge McPherson. The suit was to collect freight charges.

The exceptions raised the question whether a common carrier could collect freight charges on goods that had been damaged in a storm in a public building, before the merchandise reached its destination. It appeared that the cotton was accepted by the transportation company for shipment in Atlanta, Ga., to Liverpool, England. As the result of a fire on the company's steamship Georgian, January 22, 1902, the cotton was landed here in a burned condition. The American line refused to accept it for this port for transportation to Liverpool.

The Merchants and Miners' line held the cotton and later libeled it for the freight charges from Atlanta, Ga., to this port.

Watson & Co., the owners, contended that the plaintiff should have collected or obtained a steamship line to carry the cotton to England or return the goods to the owners.

ICE WAR COME TO END IN CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

Injunction Granted Against Big Ice Plants in Favor of Minor Company

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 15.—Declining to recognize the petition for the removal of federal court, Chancellor McConnell has granted the injunction asked by the Ridgedale Ice company to restrain the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation and the Southern Ice company from selling ice in Chattanooga at less than the cost to manufacture and deliver in addition to a reasonable profit and restraining them from encroaching on the Ridgedale Ice company's territory in Ridgedale. This will end the local ice war to the sorrow of the housewives.

A bill asking for the injunction was filed last week when Chancellor McConnell ordered the defendant companies to appear before him yesterday, which they failed to do and show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

SIX MEN HURT WHEN NEW ROOF COLLAPSES

Concrete Gives Way and Carries Workmen Down Five Stories to Ground

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 15.—Six persons were hurt, some painfully and perhaps fatally, when a portion of the roof of the Hogshead apartments, now under construction, collapsed this morning. The injured are:

W. A. Pundt, of Highland Park, foreman for the Chickamauga Quarry and Construction company; J. E. Garwood, of St. Elmo, working under the direction of W. C. Collins, superintendent of the building; James A. Suffern, brick contractor, and three negroes.

The roof of green concrete gave way, sliding down the side of the building to the ground, five stories below, carrying the men with it, and landing them into debris.

Mr. Pundt is very seriously injured, his left leg and nose being broken.

The New Bathing Suits Are All Ready

The swimming season is on!

And here are the bathing suits that, for women, go a long way towards making the swimming season a happy time.

They are novel, attractive affairs, and there are a great many of them. You will enjoy selecting yours when there is such variety.

It seems that there has been specialization at every price. The inexpensive suits are prettier than ever, and more elaborate suits are charminger than ever.

And none of them are "afraid of the water." They will not fade—we saw to that before we considered any style attractive.

At $12.75 A novelty suit of black satin, side fastening waist with large silk braid ornaments, short sleeves, plain fitted skirt, belt, collar and cuffs in Bulgarian silks in which Copenhagen and Nell rose shades predominate.

At $11.75 A suit of black Duchess satin, the waist is tucked over the shoulders, round sailor collar of black and white striped satin, revers and turn back cuffs of Nell rose satin, crystal buttons, plain skirt inset at side with black and white striped satin—a striking suit.

At $8.75 Suit of faille silk, surplice waist with side revers of Bulgarian satin. Purple satin pipings on collar, cuffs and belt—buttons to match.

At $7.50 A number of attractive suits of satin, taffeta and mohair—all black or black with touches of color in pipings, on collars and cuffs and now and then bits of hand embroidery. Prettier by far than the average $7.50 bathing suit.

At $6.95 Suits of sturdy mohair in black and navy and in stripes. Usually the trimmings are satin pipings and buttons. Also at this price are satin suits trimmed with brightly colored Scotch plaid silks.

At $5.75 $4.50, $3.75, $2.95 and $2.25 are serviceable suits of mohair in styles just brought out this season, and they are very smart—any number of styles to choose from—perhaps a greater number than you have ever found in Atlanta.

Bathing Accessories

The new caps are here—all sorts, diving caps, the regulation tams, the new Gaby caps, the much favored handkerchief caps in all colors. Price from 50c to $2.25 and the shoes at 25c to $1.50 and the rubberized bathing suit bags.

Great Happenings in the Junior Department Tomorrow

Third Floor

Here are savings!

Savings made doubly attractive by the fact that they come on just those garments that must be bought right now.

Here—

65c For Children's $1.00 Dresses. Sizes two to six years. Materials are the better grades of percales and ginghams. Little low neck, short sleeve dresses, with long waists and just a bit of a skirt—prettily trimmed with embroidery beadings, with pipings, and bands of white pique and plaids.

At a saving of 35c on each one, mothers will doubtless buy enough for the whole summer.

79c For Girls' $1.00 Dresses. Sizes six to fourteen years. We might rightly call them $1.25 dresses—they were bought as such, but we have previously made a special of others like these at $1.00.

Of percale and ginghams, non-fading colors and attractive patterns; long waisted, plaited skirts.

$1.00 For $1.50 Middy Blouses. Sizes eight to eighteen years. A small lot to hurry out quickly. Low neck, short sleeves; white, white trimmed in red and navy.

$1.00 For $1.50 to $2.25 Petticoats. Junior petticoats and children's petticoats. Just an odd, surplus lot that we have priced in rather unusual fashion for this season. Soft and fine nainsooks, daintily, youthfully trimmed with Valenciennes laces and embroideries.

$1.19 For Girls' $1.50 and $1.75 Dresses. Sizes six to fourteen years. And they are as fresh and bright as any little girl could want. The materials are prettily striped, checked and figured lawns, percales and ginghams, in summertime colorings. The trimmings are novel, the fashioning of the waists and skirts is novel.

A. God looks upon sin with holy displeasure and great sorrow, and calls upon every one to repent, warning us of the consequences of sin.

Q. 10. What are the consequences of sin?

A. The consequences of sin are estrangement from God, increasing sinfulness in ourselves, misery to others, and the righteous judgments of God in time and in eternity.

Q. 11. How has God provided for our salvation from sin?

A. God, of His great mercy, has provided for our salvation from sin by the gift of His Son, Jesus Christ.

Q. 12. Who is Jesus Christ?

A. Jesus Christ is God's eternal and only-begotten Son who humbled Himself to become man, and so is God and man.

Q. 13. How did Jesus Christ become man?

A. Jesus Christ became man by being born of the Virgin Mary in Bethlehem of Judea, as had been foretold; and His name was called Jesus, which means Saviour, because He was to save His people from their sins.

Q. 14. How did Jesus Christ live on earth.

A. Jesus Christ lived on earth a truly human life, full of trials and sorrows being tempted as we are yet without sin, always doing the will of God, and so setting us a perfect example.

Q. 15. Why did Jesus Christ die?

A. Jesus Christ died on the cross, the just for the unjust, that He might reconcile us to God and save us from sin.

A. Faith in Jesus Christ is believing on Him and trusting Him as our own Saviour and Lord.

Q. 21. How does God lead us to believe on Jesus Christ?

A. God leads us to believe on Jesus Christ by the work of the Holy Spirit in our hearts, showing us that we are sinful, and disposing and enabling us to accept Him as He is offered to us in the gospel.

Q. 22. What is the work of the Holy Spirit in us who believe?

A. The work of the Holy Spirit in us who believe is to give us hatred of sin and love of righteousness, assurance of the truth, power for service and assurance that we are children of God.

Q. 38. How was the Lord's Supper appointed?

III. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain.

VI. Thou shall not kill.

VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

VIII. Thou shalt not steal.

COMMISSIONERS TO U. S. A. BUZZING LIKE BEES OVER RACE FOR MODERATOR

unless the U. S. church should itself, in the meanwhile, be bitten by the same microbe.

A Better Way.

Last night Atlanta had an example of the better way of managing general assembly affairs. The United Presbyterian body opened its sessions and elected as its moderator Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell. The election was like a part of the evening's worship. It was in no wise incongruous with the sermon of the retiring moderator, Dr. H. H. Bell. In simple, dignified manner one commissioner after another arose and in a very few words told why it seemed fitting thus to honor Dr. Russell. A viva voce vote settled the matter and Dr. Russell was led to the pulpit by two of his classmates.

Everybody was pleased and the religious spirit of the meeting was heightened, rather than diminished. The stated clerk, Dr. McGill, quiet and self-effacing, occupied a seat on the pulpit beside the moderator during the session. Then he is alone and unaided had during the day welcomed and registered all the commissioners to the assembly. For such an efficient body the United Presbyterian church gets along with precious little machinery.

Southern folk love good speaking, and Atlanta was out in force at the opening session of the United Presbyterian assembly last night. In addition to hearing Dr. Bell's admirable discourse, they had opportunity to appraise the fine men from "up north" who may one day be an organic part of the church which is now Southern Presbyterian in Atlanta. Plainly the Atlantians were pleased. The way in which the psalms were sung was a revelation to many. There is no United Presbyterian congregation in Atlanta, the one that was eventually organized having graciously been merged with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. The whole city will be familiar with such psalm singing at the joint meetings where, with courteous contempt, the United Presbyterians have provided 5,000 copies of their revised psalter.

Co-operation in Service.

Another great meeting of last night was a union missionary session of the Home and Foreign boards of the U. S. A. church, which filled the First church to its capacity. The speeches were strong and sounded a note that will be heard often in Atlanta during the next eight days—co-operation in service.

Atlanta's interest in this pan-Presbyterian convocation is really widespread and deep. This is one of the unusual gatherings which has gone down into the life of the city. The homes of its people have been opened ,and families are talking less about what the assemblies may do than about "our delegates." In this close personal contact comes that mutual interpretation which, all unrecorded, is making history for the United States of America.

The prodigious task which Atlanta has undertaken may not be lost sight of. Although there is only one small congregation of the U. S. A. church in the city, and none *at all of the U. P. church, yet At*lanta has undertaken to extend free hospitality to this army of strangers. This is an example of practical Christian unity, for all denominational lines have been submerged in one common display of Atlanta hospitality. Baptist and Methodist and Episcopalian are learning what manner of man a Presbyterian is. The herculean task which Atlanta has so successfully accomplished appeals to the imagination.

The "Elect Infant" Clause.

These less obvious phases of the pan-Presbyterian meeting are the ones of most abiding influence. They will remain long after the excitement of electing moderators has been forgotten.

The most important aspect of the whole great meeting is doctrinal. An undercurrent of concern for the cardinal teachings of the Presbyterian faith flows through all four gatherings. The church in the United States has, through its presbyteries, already decided to stand by the "elect infant" clause in the Westminster Confession. Everybody agrees that a more modern and explicit statement of the point at issue would be desirable, for, of course, "elect infants" implies "non-elect infants," but the church is determined not to be understood as receding at all from its fundamental and historic beliefs.

Nevertheless it is possible that a brief statement of faith, entirely supplementary to the Westminster Confession, may be adopted at the *present U. S. assembly. A com*mittee is now at work upon the subject. The committee is divided into two groups, one of which would simply reprint the answers of the Shorter Catechism, while the other desires a more modern terminology.

Another statement of grave im*portance is understood to be in* course of preparation in the U. S. assembly, defining the church's relationship with the federal council. The assembly is determined to affirm its convictions touching the fundamentals of its belief, yet at the same time it wants to remain in this larger fellowship of the churches. But it will not sacrifice faith to fellowship.

The "Intermediate Catechism."

Speaking of the statements of creed, the present U. S. assembly will adopt one in the form of an "intermediate" catechism, which, however, does not supplant the famous "Shorter Catechism." This is an easier and more modern speech. It is a notable document, for it tells in the language of the day what the church believes. It is reproduced on another page of this issue.

This constructive work of the assemblies, which deals with the deepest concerns of human life and the profoundest aspirations of mortal spirit, are, after all, the real business of the present gathering. These men are consecrated servants of the gospel, and devoted to the common weal. Their work affects the springs of character and conduct, and hence the national destiny.

various standing committees were made.

Resolutions were adopted to join the other assemblies in the union meetings at the auditorium on the assurance of the moderator that he would be no means be a committal in favor of organic union.

Various memorials, relating chiefly to matters of local interest, in addition to those bearing on the basis of union, were submitted from more than a dozen presbyteries in all sections of the country, and referred to committees.

The presbytery of Scranton, Pa., asked that the step on which the first United Presbyterian theological seminary was founded at Service, Pa., be suitably marked.

The administrative committee of the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America memorialized the United Presbyterians to urge the city government of San Francisco and the board of directors of the Pan-American Exposition "to adopt every means to prevent the exploiting of commercialized vice," and to protect the morals of visitors to the 1915 exposition.

TITLES NOT RECOGNIZED.

On the motion of Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan, of the Allegheny presbytery, who declared that "titles are nothing more than fixtures stuck on by some college," the assembly voted to put all commissioners on the same footing, designating the commissioners on the floor of the assembly as "mister" or "reverend."

The assembly adopted the report of the special comittee appointed last year to consider the advisability of uniting the board of home missions and the board of church extension, recommending that the two bodies continue to work independently. The two boards had little in common, the report said, and there was no special reason for the union.

It was decided to change the hour of the afternoon session from 2 until 2:30 o'clock.

The morning session adjourned shortly before noon.

The afternoon session the assembly heard various reports and transacted routine business.

U. P. ASSEMBLY PROCEEDINGS.

Rev. Robert M. Russell, president of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., was unanimously elected moderator of the thirty-fifth annual assembly of the United Presbyterian church which opened at the Central Presbyterian church Wednesday night. Dr. Russell succeeds Rev. Dr. Hugh H. Bell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, San Francisco.

Dr. Russell was nominated by Dr. C. P. Proudfit, of Des Moines. No other nominations were made and the election was by acclamation. The new moderator was presented with a gold-headed gavel made from wood taken from the first United Presbyterian theological seminary in America. In making the presentation, Dr. G. A. Beattie, of Atlanta, predicted the union of the United Presbyterian church with the Southern Presbyterian, and said: "I want to suggest right now that if this union comes about, the new church be called the United Presbyterian." A second gavel was presented by Dr. R. A. Hutchinson in the name of the home board of Pennsylvania.

There were about 500 present at the opening session, 125 of whom were registered as commissioners. There were three destinations from presbyteries in India and one from the presbytery of middle Egypt.

Following the usual custom, the as*sembly was opened with* the farewell sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. Hugh H. Bell, of San Francisco.

DR. BELL'S SERMON.

Dr. Bell spoke on "The Living Christ," whose "living, personal presence" he termed "our greatest present day need."

The vision of John on Patmos was so described as first to articulate its import upon modern life and second to impress the fact that "too much of our theology and religion and preaching today deals with a dead Christ to the utter destruction of the living Christ."

Dr. Bell declared that the Christ of the Roman Catholic church is largely a dead Christ; that of the Orthodox Greek church, a dead Christ; that of art, literature, poetry and music, a dead Christ. German socialism, he said, preaches a dead Christ. A peril that faces even Protestantism, he declared, is the evading of the spiritual, the avoidance of the supernatural. The personality of Christ as a living, moving influence of today was shown to merit its greatest honor in the service its power inspires.

In examples to show that this living Christ is now the source of the most universal ideals, Dr. Bell cited recent events in Korea, Egypt, China and other countries

MRS. WILSON NOMINATES POSTMASTER FOR ROME

Name of James Park Bowie Is Certified to Senate by President

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Confirming the prediction in these dispatches of several weeks ago, the president today nominated James Park Bowie to be postmaster at Rome.

The nomination was sent to the senate along with five other Georgia postoffices, as follows:

Bowden, Carroll county, Merida L. Moore; Concord, Pike county, Richard E. Lee; Jonesboro, Clayton county, William L. Watterson; Milledgeville, Baldwin county, R. B. Moore; Oglethorpe, Macon county, Pamile T. Elmore.

The nomination of Mr. Bowie, for Rome, is the most important piece of Georgia patronage thus far disposed of by the president. The office is the largest in the Seventh congressional district. Its compensation is $3,100 annually.

Several days ago President Wilson conferred with Congressman Gordon Lee about the Rome office and indicated a desire to nominate for the office, Mr. Bowie, who was the warm personal friend of Mrs. Wilson's parents.

The congressman, though he had intended nominating some one else for the postoffice, gracefully yielded his prerogative in the premises.

EXCITING CONTEST IN NORTHERN ASSEMBLY, NO RACE IN SOUTHERN

come the nominating speeches and the balloting. It will not be a surprise if several ballots are necessary to elect, and there is a possibility of a "dark horse" being put forward at the last moment and winning the honors.

DR. MATTHEWS APPLAUDED.

The morning session of the assembly was chiefly taken up with the sermon of the retiring moderator, Rev. Mark A. Matthews, D. D., of Seattle, Wash. Contrary to his usual custom he read from a manuscript, but nevertheless his delivery was strong and convincing.

He was greeted with prolonged applause when he asserted that the ministerial applicant who refuses the diversity of Christ thereby shows prima facie evidence of unregeneration, and that no unregenerated man should be allowed to preach.

Whether so intended or not, these words contained more or less pointed reference to the doubtful state of mind of young men coming from unaccredited seminaries, and to certain of the "higher critics."

Dr. Matthews was several times interrupted by applause, and finally asked the audience, instead of applauding, to retire to the prayer closet after the sermon and pray for pentecost to break loose.

Possibility of an organic union between all four branches of the Presbyterian church was touched on by Dr. Matthews, when he said that God and faith would make it possible to bring about a real union baptised in the Holy Spirit. The suggestion was applauded.

The spacious auditorium and galleries of the Baptist Tabernacle were filled Tuesday morning when the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America opened its thirty-sixth annual meeting.

Dr. David Gonsley called the audience to order a few minutes after 10:30 o'clock. Dr. James Dearence, of New York, vice moderator of the assembly, said the open prayer.

Dr. John Timothy Stone, the famous Presbyterian preacher of Chicago, read a lesson from the scripture and Dr. Walter Radcliffe, of Washington, followed with a prayer.

The audience rose and sang the hymn, "Crown Him With Many Crowns." At this time the seats had all been taken in the auditorium and late comers were seated in the choir loft.

Dr. Mark H. Matthews, the retiring moderator, rose and advanced to the front of the rostrum in the midst of an impressive silence.

THE MODERATOR'S SERMON.

He announced the subject of his sermon, "The victories of Faith versus the Failures of Unbelief," and read numerous passages of scripture.

"By the exercise of Godward faith," he continued, "that organic union would be the product of conviction. I am not in favor of a mechanical organic union, but I am in favor of the organic union of all the branches of Presbyterianism in this country, if brought about as the result of conviction. The only thing that keeps us apart is the paralyzing influence of unbelief."

"By faith the church could disarm the world. The disarmament of nations is the duty of the church. By faith and the works thereof the church could free America from the accursed liquor traffic. The church will some day exercise her power and when she does in twenty-five years from tat day America will be free from the saloon.

"Faith is the medium between God and the child through which mighty works are performed. In other words, faith is a medium through which power is transmitted for the accomplishment of superhuman deeds. If superhuman deeds are not performed by the Christians that fact alone is prima facie evidence the power has been arrested by the paralyzing influence of doubt or unbelief. Unbelief is the paralyzing power which makes superhuman work impossible."

REJECT THE DOUBTERS.

After an exposition on the supernatural powers of the church as against the material, Dr. Matthews declared that "we should change the ground of our objections to candidates for the ministry who doubt or deny the deity of Christ. They ought to be rejected not alone because the doubt or deny per se the deity of Christ, but, because their denial is prima facie evidence that they have never been regenerated. No unregenerated man should be permitted to preach.

In conclusion, Dr. Matthews predicted that "Christians soon will return to the fundamental principles, the cardinal doctrines and the use of their supernatural equipment. Then the holy Sunday as God's decreed day of rest will be restored to man and by him kept holy. The church's greatest need today is faith, prayer, Godly living, daily giving, powerful preaching, and the exercise of supernatural power, the result of Godward faith thrust into Christ."

GUATEMALA ARRANGES TO PAY OFF BIG DEBT

GUATEMALA, May 15.—Satisfactory arrangements have been made by the Guatemalan government for resumption of the payment of interest on the Guatemala debt, which is largely held in England, it was announced today.

A fund also has been created for the amortization of this debt, the interest payment on which ceased in 1894, owing to a financial crisis.

Great Britain recently sent to the Guatemalan government a strong demand for the payment of the claims of their bondholders and the time limit for a reply was fixed for May 15.

WHERE COMMISSIONERS FOUND THEIR HOMES

The above photograph taken at the Atlanta Terminal station shows a group of the city's guests around the information bureau where they were told at whose hospitable homes they would be entertained while here for the assembly meetings. Where there was the slightest bit confonfusion, the visitor was sent to assembly headquarters on the fifth floor of the Empire building, where his case was attended to.

DR. J. T. CLYCE RETIRES AS SOUTHERN MODERATOR

there are no politics in the church and no pre-election campaigning for the high office of moderator.

It was possible, some of them explained, that the friends of leading men had candidates in mind, but it was true that no definite action had been taken. The election was scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

DR. CLYCE'S SERMON.

No reference to the proposed union of the various Presbyterian organizations was made in the sermon of Dr. T. S. Clyce. He took for the text of his sermon "Christ, the Soul's Eternal Satisfaction."

"Men are running to and fro as if seeking for a lost treasure. It is that perfect happiness, they are seeking, which was lost more than six thousand years ago in Eden. Six thousand years testify to the incompetency of everything earthly to make men happy.

"The Eden once lost will be regained in all its fullness only when we shall have crossed over the river and joined that vast throng which no man can number, of all nations and kindred peoples and tongues, which came out of great tribulation.

Dr. Clyce compared the soul of man to an eagle confined in a cage, and declared that as the eagle was made for the skies, so was the soul of man made for God.

"But even the soul which has experienced the wonderful change of regeneration is not satisfied," Dr. Clyce added. "While infinitely happier than any unregenerated soul of earth there still is war between the member, as a result of sin. For there is no sinless perfection this side the grave. Christ is the soul's infinite necessity, the soul's eternal satisaction. Every soul is restless and must remain restless until it rests in Him."

NEWPORT NEWS WANTS A.

It has been learned that the First Presbyterian church of Newport News, Va., has extended a cordial invitation to the next assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States to meet there.

The First church will hold as many if not more than any ecclesiastical edifices in that state, seating at least one-tenth of its inhabitants. It has innumerable rooms for committee work, and has entertained many notable gatherings of the state, including the Y. M. C. A., Sunday school, Anti-saloon league, synod of Virginia and other large gatherings.

The chamber of commerce and the interdenominational ministers' association of the city unite in the invitation.

The assembly has never met in tidewater Virginia, though it is the oldest English permanent settlement of the land.

Another strong appeal is made to the assembly in that this was only twenty-five years ago a missionary field, now the largest church of the denomination in eastern Virginia, and bears an unbroken record for more than twenty years of receiving an average of more than one member a Sabbath.

Its present building is the third erected in six years. Its pastor has received nearly 1,200 members into its communion and is now the moderator of the synod of Virginia—the largest court of the Southern Presbyterian church.

DR. DONALDSON GOES TO THE BAPTIST CONVENTION

DUBLIN, Ga., May 15.—Dr. J. B. Donaldson, treasurer of the First Baptist church, was given a trip to the Southern Baptist convention, which is being held in St. Louis, Mo., this week.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS SAVE COIN AND NOT SOULS, SAYS BURROWS

last year for its own support, but gave $2,000 for the outside work.

If all churches would do that there would be $5,000,000 raised for mission work. He wanted to see the convention instruct the boards to go forward and not to stand still. This the convention decided to do by a unanimous and enthusiastic vote.

An old St. Louis custom was paralyzed by the Southern Baptist convention delegates yesterday. For years it has been the custom to wear no straw hats until the 30th of May, when the mayor issued a formal proclamation permitting them to be worn.

It was only the 14th of May when the convention was scheduled to meet, but when the morning trains rolled in not less than 3,500 straw hats were seen floating through the streets. It was in order to smash every one of them, but caution and gallantry saved them. When the hats appeared there was an inclination to smash them, but the presence of such men as Lansing Burrows, R. J. Willingham, John A. Purser, Martin Ball, all weighing more than 200 pounds, suggested that it would be wiser to ignore the custom than to enforce it. Gallantry had a hand in this decision, for there were a number of women with the straw hats and they were unpolested.

In his address of welcome, Hon. E. W. Stephens said it was a special pleasure to welcome Lansing Burrows, a man with the exterior of a lion, but the heart of a lamb, with the outward appearance of Bismarck, but the inward tenderness of the beloved disciple John.

In reading his report, Dr. R. J. Willingham referred to the suggestion made to recall some missionaries. With a few words he said, holding up his hand, "I never want it said that this hand wrote the order that closed a single missionary station or called in a single missionary."

A direct report was received from the Woman's Missionary union, the first time such a report had ever been made. It shows that women, since 1888, have given $2,000,000 to the work, one-tenth of it in the last year. Above one-third of the money raised by this convention has been given by the women.

The trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary today passed resolutions of fraternity and sympathy with the Theological seminary at Waco, Tex., and the one at Liberty, Mo. This is really the first step to forestall the formation of a western Baptist convention to take in the territory west of the Mississippi. There has been much talk of this for a number of years.

The annual convention sermon was preached by Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, of Raleigh, N. C.

He was a man for bringing men into equality through the preaching of the Gospel. He prophesied that if America failed to do her part in lifting up the negro race posterity would plead with China as she is pleading with us today.

Prominent Baptist Advocates U. S. Intevention in Mexico

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—"Armed intervention by the United States is the only thing, in my judgment, that will restore peace in Mexico," said Missionary R. P. Mahon, of Morelia, state of Michoacan, Mexico, in address before the Southern Baptist convention today.

"I have been unable to return to my work in Mixico for two months on account of revolutions and revolutions against revolutionists. The country, in absolute chaos, is without hpe of getting together if led by any of its own people.

"A governor of a prominent state told me he hoped missionaries would establish a school in every village in his dominion, as he believed only a system of education like that of the United States would redeem Mexico.

"In the light of these facts, the only hope I can see for Mexico is armed intervention by this country," continued Mr. Mahon. "More than 50 per cent of Mexico's population never has learned to read or write any language. More than 75 per cent of Mexican men are unfaithful to their families."

J. W. Lowe and A. Y. Napier, missionaries from China, said the new Chinese government welcomed the missionary schools.

Secretary Lansing Burrows said Missouri by 10,000 and Oklahoma by 5,000 had decreased in the number of members during the year.

Membership increase in Georgia was 9,000, in North Carolina 6,000 and in Tennessee 10,000.

Woman's Missionary Union In Session

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—The convention of the Woman's Missionary union, an auxiliary of the Southern Baptist convention, met today. The morning session was devoted to address of the president and to the report of the corresponding secretary.

The Southern Baptist considered missionary reports.

Vociferous Rooster Annoys Hard Worker

A vociferous rooster, which is believer to reside at 57 Pulliam street, is very annoying to E. E. Perkins, of 189 Rawson street, who has written to Chief of Police Beavers, asking his aid in remedying what Mr. Perkins calls a nuisance in his neighborhood.

He speaks also in behalf of his neighbors, who, he claims, are tired of the annoyance that the rooster starts each morning at the crack of dawn.

Mr. Perkins apologizes in his note to the chief of police. He hates to take up any one's valuable time on such a subject, he writes, but he works hard and would like to be able to get in his allotted time of sleep, instead of being awakened before day by this rooster, which he claims starts all the rest. He says he has timed the chantecleer and finds that it is nothing for this bird to crow from 8 to 14 times in a minute as he struts the street in front of where he (the bird)- roosts each night.

OFFICE SEEKERS BESIEGE COMMISSIONER J. J. PRICE

Many Candidates for Assistant Agricultural Commissioner—No Choice Yet

Candidates for the position of assistant commissioner of agriculture under Commissioner J. D. Price continue to multiply. Mr. Price has been in Atlanta for the past two days on business and during this time he has been seen by delegations in the interest of several candidates.

J. J. Conner, the present commissioner of agriculture, is an active candidate for the place of assistant and is having his friends throughout the state write Mr. Price in his behalf. Friends of J. J. Brown, the present assistant commissioner, are urging Mr. Price to continue him in the assistant's office, and quite a number of persons from various sections of the state are supporting Dr. W. C. Bryant, the state oil inspector, for the position.

Some of the others whose names are mentioned in connection with the assistant commissionership are Martin V. Calvin, former director of the Georgia experiment station; Emmett Cabaniss, former president of the Georgia division of the Farmers' union, and W. W. Wilson, of Norcross, representative in the last legislature from Gwinnett county.

Mr. Price stated Thursday morning that he had positively not made up his mind concerning the appointment and that it was possible that he might not do so until he went into office. He declared it was his purpose to pick the man who is best qualified to render genuine service to the agricultural interests of the state, regardless of political affiliations.

As a result of the active candidacy of Mr. Conner and the tentative candidacy of Mr. Brown the relations between the two are said to be somewhat strained. Friends of Mr. Brown claim that he supported Mr. Conner for the position of director of the experiment station and that notwithstanding his defeat, he should lend his efforts and influence in behalf of Mr. Brown for the assistant commissionership rather than aspire to it himself.

It was reported around the agricultural department Thursday morning that in the event Mr. Conner failed to land as assistant commissioner of agriculture he would most likely go after the position of pure food inspector or that of chief oil inspector.

TAG DAY BROUGHT $4.670 FOR SHELTERING ARMS

Not So Much as Last Year, Everybody Is Thanked

"Tag day" netted $4,670 for the Sheltering Arms.

All committees that worked so hard during Monday to raise money for this worthy cause have reported now, and the total amount is very encouraging. It does not equal the $5,500 taken in last year, but this is not discouraging when it is considered the handsome large amount in 1912 being due largely to the presence in the city of many visitors who came en route to the veterans' reunion at Macon.

"Unfortunately, we have neglected to thank the hundreds of young girls who so greatly aided us in the sale of the tags, and the thousands who so kindly contributed; but this was due to our failure to finish with the work until today," said Mrs. Gilbert Fraser, president of the Sheltering Arms association. In discussing the amount of money taken in through the sale of tags, "Atlantians are the best people in the world at aiding in such causes, and the fourth annual 'tag day' proved a huge success."

The committee in charge of "Tag day" was composed of Mrs. Frank Logan, chairman; Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Mrs. W. H. Kiser and Mrs. Eugene Black.

NEW SALARY LAW THAT SUITS COURT, COMING

So Says Charles I. Branan, Leader of Fight to Abolish Fee System Here

Though the supreme court on Wednesday declared the Fulton county salary law unconstitutional, the fight for this system has just started and is sure of success at the coming session of the state legislature, according to Charles I. Branan, who was one of the most earnest advocates of the bill when it was passed by the 1912 legislature. Already plans for the renewal of the fight against the fee system have been started, and at the next session of the legislature a bill which will meet with the approval of the supreme court is to be introduced.

Here is what Mr. Branan has to say regarding the ruling of the court which declared the bill unconstitutional:

"I see by the papers that the supreme court has reversed the decision of Judge Pendleton, who declared the 'salary system' bill constitutional. While I have not seen the full text of the decision of the supreme court declaring the "salary system" bill unconstitutional, I am satisfied that the decision will bring out the defects in the drafting of the bill passed unanimously by the legislature in 1911 at the request of 85 per cent of the voters of Fulton county.

"When that decision of the supreme court is published the people will demand that a bill be drawn at once which will meet with the approval of the supreme court. This bill will be introduced at the coming session of the legislature in July and stronger argument than ever will be brought to bear for its passage."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC MUST DIVORCE CENTRAL PACIFIC

Attorney General McReynolds Reaches Tentative Decision in Dissolution Case

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Attorney General McReynolds has reached a tentative decision that the Central Pacific railroad should be divorced from the Southern Pacific in dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. His conclusion, however, is not final, and today he began examination of a memorandum filed by the Southern Pacific to show that it is not necessary for the Southern Pacific to give up the Central Pacific.

Former Attorney General Wickersham insisted that the Southern Pacific surrender the Central Pacific under threat of a suit under the Sherman law to accomplish that result.

The final attitude of Attorney General McReynolds on the question probably will be a determining feature in the plan of dissolving the Union and Southern Pacific.

Atlanta Wins.

The oracle is justified.

The omens were true.

Atlanta has won the Shriners' convention for 1914.

She has won brilliantly and worthily over two stalwart contestants—Memphis, who has long been toiling and planning for the coveted prize and Buffalo who leaped daringly into the field at the eleventh hour with the committee's recommendation in its favor. But what rival could withstand the magic of the Atlanta spirit? The vote of the imperial Council itself best tells the story: for Atlanta, two hundred and sixty-nine; for Buffalo, eighty-five; for Memphis, sixty-seven.

This result, though confidently expected, is none the less enthusiastically received. It is a victory of which any city in all the Union would be proud. It means that Atlanta will have as its guests next year tens of thousands of visitors from every State and every section of the country, the flower of one of the greatest fraternal orders in the world, representatives of the best and the highest elements of American citizenship. The Shriners' convention met this year at Dallas, where its attendance aggregated some thirty thousand and where it was magnificently entertained. The 1914 convention in Atlanta will doubtless attract a still larger number of visitors and all that hospitality can do for their welcome and pleasure will be forthcoming.

For this great victory, especial praise must be given that splendid delegation of Atlanta and Georgia Shriners who, under the leadership of Messrs. Forrest Adair, John A. Hynds, Claude H. Hutcheson and W. A. Foster, were chiefly instrumental in winning the next national convention for the Gate City. These gentlemen went about their enterprise in a characteristically Atlanta way. They were confident of success largely because they knew that this entire community stood behind them. They went from a city which in response to a single bugle blast had raised more than seventy-six thousand dollars for the convention's entertainment. They carried to Dallas the Atlanta spirit, with all the inconquerable energy and resourcefulness it represents.

The winning of the 1914 convention is a thing of which every Atlantian, whether a Shriner or not, is proud. We congratulate the city in general and the Shriners of the Yaarab Temple in particular.

Colquitt County's Great Good Roads Campaign.

One of the most interesting good roads enterprises in Georgia today is that of Colquitt county whose commissioners have undertaken to improve within the current year three hundred miles of public highways. This ambitious task has been apportioned among six crews of laborers, each under competent supervision and all working in accordance with a general plan toward a common end. As a result, Colquitt county will have not only a large number of well built and durable roads, but it will have also a closely linked system of highways, so that trade and communciation between any point within its boundaries will be direct and easy.

That is the great value of constructing roads according to a comprehensive design rather than piecemeal or independently. Each stretch of highway should be considered in its relationship to the roads as a whole and to the people's common interests. Roads which are thus developed are permanent and diffusive in their usefulness. They quicken the progress of the entire community and tend to the upbuilding of both commerce and agriculture, of the town as well as the farm. They create a wider and keener sense of county pride and open the way for all manner of constructive and cooperative endeavors.

A particularly notable feature of the Colquitt county work is its provision of means for maintaining the roads after they are improved. Much labor and money are often wasted by the neglect of this important need. The constant upkeep of roads is as important as their construction; and a comparatively small fund used in prompt repairs will save thousands of dollars to taxpayers.

It is said that the farmers of Colquitt county have been instrumental in the enterprise that is now under way. They realize the vital need of good roads and, as The Journal's correspondent writes, "are demanding them at almost any price." Certain it is that nothing is so costly to agricultural interests as poor roads. It is estimated that the cost of hauling, which amounts to millions of dollars in the United States each year and to great sums of money in each State and county, could be cut in half, if the country were provided with an adequate number of well kept and closely linked highways. It is the part of economy as well as progress for every county to develop its roads. The liberal and far-reaching campaign of Colquitt should be a stimulating example to every community in Georgia.

The Ad Men's Edition Of The Sunday Journal.

Next Sunday's Journal will be distinctively interesting as the annual edition of the Atlanta Ad Men's Club. A liberal percentage of the proceeds from the advertisements in that issue will go to the Ad Men as an aid to their "On To Baltimore Campaign." It is a fact universally known that whatever the Ad Men touch, they make particularly worth while. The Journal of Sunday, May the eighteenth, will reflect the energy and the driving power that characterizes every enterprise of that progressive organization.

The value of the Ad Men's Club to Atlanta's civic *and business growth cannot be overgauged. Its mem*bers are continually striving with enthusiasm and foresight to upbuild the community's interests and to heighten and extend the city's prestige. They not only originate constructive plans of their own, but they also stand ready at all times to aid every worthy or progressive cause. Indeed, there is no forward-looking movement of recent years in which they have not played a generous and helpful part. They are our everlasting optimists, our never-tiring builders.

The Journal deems it a privilege to turn over to the Ad Men its edition for the coming Sunday. Their share of the advertising proceeds from that issue will assist them materially, we trust, in realizing their ambition to make an especially fine showing at the next annual meeting of the national organization at Baltimore. They are entitled to the heartiest good will and support of their city's business interests and of the public generally.

The Fight for Direct Primaries in New York.

A particularly interesting campaign in behalf of popular government as opposed to machine rule is now afoot in New York state, where an extra session of the Legislature is soon to meet to deal with the Direct Primary bill. The purpose of this measure is to enable the rank and file of a political party to choose their nominee for any office instead of being compelled, as is now the case, to accept the candidate of a convention which is more often than otherwise dominated by corrupt bosses. Its advo*cates contend that under the party system of gov*ernment, the people must control the parties, if they are really to control their government and that to this end they must be permitted to vote on nominees as well as on candidates in the regular election. Otherwise, particular interests can name their representatives as candidates of both or all parties and leave the people to fight out a mock battle at the polls.

This bill was defeated at the regular session of the Legislature by an alliance between Tammany and Republican bosses—the "Barnes-Murphy machine," as it is popularly known. On such an issue as this the self-serving politicians know no party differences. The progressive forces are determined, however, that at the extra session the pressure of public sentiment and public judgment shall be brought to bear as heavily as possible upon those legislators who hesitate between loyalty to the people and the machine.

Governor Sulzer is showing qualities of true leadership by using every influence at his command to break the power of the machine leaders. "The best of it is," comments the New York Evening Post, "that Murphy's hold on his machine now really seems to be loosening. As members of the organization see one federal office after another going to their party enemies, they must again curse the stupidity that marked Murphy's course at Baltimore, to which they are doubtless attributing Wilson's anti-Tammany policy; though others may justly feel that the President's attitude toward Tammany would have been the same had Murphy voted for him at the convention."

THE INCOME TAX

VIII.—Effect Upon Other Taxes.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

One of the principal objections to the imposition of an income tax in the United States has come from the advocates of protection, the ground being that the collection of such a tax would necessarily lessen the demand of the treasury for income from customs collections, and, therefore, it would be a blow at the principle of protection. Upon the present basis of expenditures, which in the United States the amount of money needed from customs ranges around $325,000,000, and anything that tends to reduce this amount, of course, tends to weaken one of the favorite arguments of the protectionists against a lowering of the tariff—that the government needs the money. Their opponents contend that this is no argument in favor of protection at all, since prohibitive duties do not add anything directly to the public treasury, but serve only to keep out foreign goods. On the other hand, it is to be said that not all protectionists agree that an income tax is necessarily an assault upon protection. Those who held that it is not, declare that under our rapidly expanding governmental activities additional appropriations are needed, and to meet them additional revenues must be forthcoming—additional revenues that can best be supplied by an income tax.

It is probable that no one will deny that as proposed by the Democrats an income tax is an assault upon protection. They propose to use it as a means of revenue raising that not only will permit them to cut out prohibitive duties entirely, but to lower some revenue-producing duties as well. Without this tax the Democrats could not cut tariff duties below a point where they would yield an annual revenue of over $300,000,000. With this income tax they can probably cut them to a point where they will yield $100,000,000 less.

The great expansion of the national demands for revenue that has taken place, shows that if any kind of tax which we choose to levy is kept at even an approximately normal rate, from time to time new methods must be found of raising such revenues. In the early days of the republic, when there was an especial pinch in government finances, a direct tax apportioned among the states, was levied. For nearly a half century before the Civil war the customs receipts were about the only form of taxes that the United States needed to carry on the affairs of the government. Then came the great war, and everything in sight had to be taxed, with the result that the internal-revenue taxes were created. After the war these taxes on production were retained for the purpose of meeting the interest on the national debt, and they have been continued so long that everybody seems now to take them as a matter of course. Now the country has come to a pass where even these two forms of taxation do not yield enough to meet the expenditures of the government in lean years, and Uncle Sam seeks something that will save him from putting up the ordinary internal revenue taxes and the revenue-producing clauses of the tariff law.

Taxing authorities generally agree that the United States taxes its people less heavily than any other principal country in the world. If the American people were willing to bear the same burdens of taxation that are cheerfully borne by the British, the German, the French and the other nations of Europe, a simple system of internal revenue taxation would yield a billion Where now it yields a few hundred million dollars.

* * *

The one plain lesson of the history of American taxation is that in these latter days, when so much revenue is needed, that no one tax will meet all of the purposes and emergencies of the country, and that supplemental taxation must be rendered possible if national life is to be assured. A national land tax as the engine of raising the national revenues would be outrageously high; a national customs tax to meet them all would demand a tariff wall higher than the highest of all the high priests of protection would enact; and an internal revenue tax to keep the treasury solvent would force the price of drinks andsmokes up so high or else compel the extension of the tax to so many commonplace subjects, that the people would rise in protest. It is by supplementing one tax with another and understudying them both with a third that sufficient revenue can be raised and the objections of the people forestalled.

The national government has the advantage of the state governments in the matter of taxation—nearly all of its taxes are "unconscious" taxes. The man who buys a suit of clothes made of cloth of English weave cannot tell how much he has contributed to the United States treasury by the transaction. Likewise, the man who smokes a box of Havana cigars knows nothing of what Uncle Sam gets out of the price he paid for them. Perhaps no man in America could calculate within 40 per cent or just how much tax he pays Uncle Sam each year through the customs houses. Not knowing what his burden is, and indeed in many instances ignorant of the fact that he is burdened at all, such taxes do not arouse opposition. No one thinks of objecting to the internal revenue taxes, and the objection made to the tariff taxes are not based upon the amount the government exacts, but upon the alleged fact that home manufacturers use these rates as a shelter from competition.

With the income tax it is different. There a man calculates it in dollars and cents. He knows exactly what his burden is, and that knowledge makes it seem the heavier. It follows that there is more dissatisfaction and often an effort to dodge the burden. It is plain that only a long process of education could lead the American people to stand and be taxed as they are, if they could tell just how much that is. If an income tax were the sole source of raising revenues the rates would have to be so high or the exemption so low that there would be serious trouble.

It has been suggested in some quarters that the American income tax ought to be levied in the same way that the inheritance tax in England is levied—the general government imposing and collecting it and turning a specified part of it over to the states for their use. It is pointed out that the general property tax, to a large degree, has had the word failure written across its face. With personal property becoming more and more intangible every year, dodging taxes upon it has become correspondingly easy. The story is told of a former United States senator generally rated as "worth a half million dollars in personal property. When the assessor came around that man was so poor in this world's goods that he could find only a watch and a saddle horse to assess. If this idea of making the income tax for the joint use of the state and the nation should ever be adopted it would probably do away entirely with the personal property tax.

Under the political situation as it stands today the income tax law, which the next few months promise to place upon the federal statute books, will differ from the corporation tax in its effect upon other sources of federal revenue. While it will not interfere in any particular with the internal taxes or rates, it will result in the lowering of many tariff duties. When the corporation tax was created it was not for the purpose of enabling congress to lower the then existing tariff but rather to supplement the income from the customs houses in order to prevent a continuing deficit in the treasury. The income tax levied by the Democrats will make the latter end their secondary aim and the lowering of the tariff their primary object.

FRANKLIN P. ADAMS

The Metric System.

You've had a lot of verses in lambic,
And, really, some of them have been quite nice;
But why not change the meter just a little
To furnish us the w. k. spice of life?

Just try a short verse done in Alcaic Strophe,
It gives a sweet touch—one much enjoyed in spring-time,
And then it's simple. I'm not kidding;
Easy enough so contribs can use it.

Maybe you've heard of the meter—the one that I'm using in this verse—
'Tis, peally rather hard to write it.
Some think it sounds very well—it's known as the First Pythiambic—
Just try it once, the boss may like it.

All these meters are good; this one especially so.
Why? Because it is strange—Noveity's always welcome.
Third Asclepiadean, a sort of hard name, but you
Needn't put it in verse—I do.

Others may find still another arrangement of syllables easy,
Why don't they try the Alcmanian Strophe?
Not in itself so good, tho some excellent poets have used it.
Still, it's amusing because of its oddness.

Greatest advantage of all these is that you don't need any rhyming,
This makes the task of writing rather simple.
Now I am using the Fourth Archilecian (Horace used to use it)—
It's great for dashing off your minor efforts.

Tho in the past I have tried to get into the colyum with verses,
Always I've met with rebuffs, for my rhymes have been shaky and doubtful;
Now, since at last I've succeeded, I'll give all due praise to the meter
That got me at last into print—Dactylic Hexameter did it.
Why not have it continued? F. J. C. W.

The job of colyum chauffeuring has its perquisites, of a verity. Every year we get invited to the Frontier Day Celebration of Cheyenne, Wyo., and the Carnival at Houston, Texas. And this morning comes our annual bid to the commencement exercises at the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Col.

One Night.

A COMPRESSED PLAYLET FROM LIFE. BY BROCK.

The scene is the women's Night Court. The court room is deserted except for a dozing attendant; the judge, who sits reading behind the bench; and two women. The latter, richly gowned and plainly from homes of culture and refinement, sit at the rear of the room whispering quietly and, watching the door eagerly. As the evening wears on and no one arrives to disturb the serenity of the court the two show their disappointment, and at length, after two hours of vain waiting, the young woman arises and approaches the judge. Her Paquin gown of blue pan velvet and her black picture hat are in striking contrast to the dinginess of her surroundings.

SHE (timidly to the judge)—Do you suppose there will be any cases to-night?

JUDGE (looking down over his glasses with a quizzical smile)—I am afraid, my dear young lady, that it is too cold to-night.

SHE—Oh, I'm so sorry. (Then in confusion she adds)—I mean I'm sorry for the poor girls.

The judge resumes his reading, the attendant settles himself for another doze, and the women, with keen disappointment written on their faces, depart.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By Herbert Corey.

"Theatrical managers," said one of them the other day, "are just as wise as a tree full of owls—dead owls."

He was pawing through a desk drawer filled with receipts.

"I've been in this business ten years," said he. "But not until this spring did I discover there's a leak in my meter. It's a wonder I haven't been run down some time by a baby carriage."

Each year he has made from one to ten productions. Each production cost him from $5,000 to $15,000 before the curtain went up.

"We all did the same," said he. "No manager can read a play and tell whether it's good. He can't hear one read and tell whether it's good. He has to see it produced before an audience—and then he tells by watching the audience. He doesn't know why it's good. He don't know why the people like it. He's content to know that they do."

Now managers do it differently. There are scat*tered over this country several good* stock companies, filled with capable he and she actors, with plenty of costumes and scenery in the cellar, and managed by people who know the difference between an owl lunch and a stage brace. So the manager gives the script of his play and $600 or $700 to the boss, and the stock company puts his new play on for him, before a real audience. It costs about one-tenth of the old plan.

"That," said the manager, "is why I insist that we managers have heads like hammers. Why didn't we think of that before?"

Kurt Sternberg has a factory over in Jersey. He is a cousin of Speck von Sternberg, who for ages was the German ambassador at Washington, and is related to every von in the Fatherland. Just because he has a family tree that is all cluttered up with grandfathers, he doesn't care for them. Long ago he dropped the "von" and the "baron." He has become positively passionate in his democracy.

"Mrs. Sternberg is just as determined in her Americanism," said C. S. Huntley, president of the German Publication society. "Not long ago one of the younger Prince Zu Eulenburg came over here—and there is no hetter family in Germany than the Zu Eulenburgs—and naturally called on Sternberg. It happened that Mrs. Sternberg herself answered the door. Zu Eulenburg clicked his heels together.

"'The Prince Zu Eulenburg,' he announced, 'to see the Herr Baron von Sternberg.'

"'Wrong address,' said Mrs. Sternberg, sweetly. 'No baron lives here.' And she closed the door. The Prince Zu Eulenburg went away dazed, and thought it out. By and by he won illumination, and rang at the door again. He lifted his hat politely.

"'Please,' said he, 'tell Mr. Sternberg that Mr. Eulenberg has come.'"

There are other ways of making a strike breaker quit work than by bouncing rectangular dornicks off his bald spot. One of the new ways is in use over in Paterson—where almost every other sort of way, including the time-tried half brick, is already in use. They call the new scheme "the silence."

"I saw 'em use it the other day," said a New York newspaper man. "A gang of thick-wristed foreigners were doing some work outside one of the silk mills against which a strike had been ordered. They were shove and pickeling along heartily, when the strikers came. Perhaps there were 500 strikers, men, women, and many little boys and girls. They hung their heads over the picket fence and watched the workers inside—in perfect silence.

"After ten minutes it became nerve-breaking. You can't imagine the silence. By and by one of the workers—a big two-fisted chap—straightened his back and shook his fist at the starers.

"'Come on,' he dared them. 'Do something.'

*"No one said a word. Five minutes later the work*ers were quitting. They couldn't stand that silent pressure."

One of the important books of the year is Henry T. Finck's "Food and Flavor." In it he calls attention to the manner in which the United States is neglecting the edible opportunities on every side. He places especial stress on the number of food fishes that are being wasted now because of needless fish prejudices.

"We might almost double our consumption of fish," said Hugh Smith, the new head of the fisheries bureau, shortly before he was named for that post. "There are scores of varieties of fish that never reach the market now. No one knows why exactly."

Mr. Smith instanced the dog fish. This is simply a young shark, and a confirmed and habitual pest to professional fishermen. It is never eaten, and, of course, never put on the market.

"There is no better fish for table use," said Mr. Smith. "The flesh is sweet, tender and delicate—far better than some of our recognized food fishes because of its method of feeding—and yet it is scorned. In ten more years we will be eating full-sized sharks, and scores of other fishes that we shudder at now. The fish are all right. We don't know they are good. That's all."

That most incomparable of grandmothers, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, thinks that America is one fine place. All except the scoffings. If she had to live on American food, she fears her digestion would be just a mess of wrinkles.

"This isn't right," said the serious gastronomer. "Mme. Bernhardt doubtless never ate a real American meal. It isn't likely now that she ever will."

He pointed out that not in all New York is there a hotel or restaurant in which real American dishes, cooked in the real American way, are served exclusively.

"Think of terrapin," he said. "Not four hotel cooks in town could do it justice. New York dopes beans with sugar and Italian paste and blames Boston with 'em. The mince pie you get nowadays would ruin a dog. What has become of the crisp, flaky, deliciously rich doughnut of yesterday? These soggy automobile wheels dipped in oil and sprinkled in sugar were never invented in New England. Where can you get chicken gumbo of the sort that bred fighting men and pretty women? Ham—Ham!

Once they cured ham in the smoke of a hickory fire—and anointed it with honey, and let it ripen for three years under the blackened rafters before the cook touched it with his gray blade. Now it is embalmed by an undertaker and fried by an assassin. Ever try to break into a turkey varnished and petrified a la Versailles—and, then think of the big, tender, toothsome bird that used to be put down before grandfather at noon of Christmas day? Wonder if Mme. Sarah ever tasted how cake—the real hoe cake—"

The gastronomer thought that in seven hours, and with about twelve miles of taxi fares, he could give Mme. Sarah a real American dinner. But it would involve visiting nine different New York eating houses for the various courses.

"Think of it," he mourned. "A town of 5,000,000 people—and not a dozen American cooks!"

SENATE'S WRANGLE MAY RUIN UNDERWOOD BILL

Wilson Withholding Patronage to Drive Democratic Senators to Support

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—For four days now the senate has been wrestling with the tariff bill and has made absolutely no progress. The Democrats with their uncertain working majority have not even succeeded in referring the measure to the finance committee. Until this is done the legislative wheels of the upper chamber can not be set in motion.

Senator Penrose's motion to throw open the bill to further public hearings is the stumbling block that confronts the dominant party and notwithstanding President Wilson's professions of confidence, the situation is admittedly more critical today than it was forty-eight hours ago.

Some of the administration's strongest friends admit privately a fear that the measure will be emasculated. Here is a dire prediction of one of Mr. Wilson's warmest admirers in the senate:

"I am not a prophet or the son of a prophet nor am I one of the older statesmen who is supposed to shape matters, but I have seen enough and I have heard enough to arouse a belief in my mind that the bill will be badly cut up in the senate. The finance committee will make enough changes in the measure to let down the bars and open the way for a lot of log rolling that could have been prevented if we had undertaken our revision schedule by schedule, instead of by an omnibus bill.

"The senate and the president wanted schedule by schedule changes but Mr. Underwood, whom I admire, wanted to perpetuate his name in history and so we have the present undesirable situation.

PATRONAGE WITHHELD.

While senators and representatives hesitate to admit that such sordid motives as patronage greed animate them it is unquestionably true that the present situation is aggravated by what many members believe to be the president's hasslade in the distribution of federal jobs. In other words the president is not supplying enough oil to lubricate the machinery. Already there can be heard echoes of a growing suspicion that the president is holding his patronage as big stick to whip through the tariff legislation.

This has aroused much resentment and some of the president's friends on Capitol Hill believe that he would fare better if he spread on a little patronage salve.

The experience quoted by Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, who is the author of the income tax, is regarded as typical of what is being said about the president at the capitol.

"I've not been much concerned about patronage," said Mr. Hull, "because I have been engrossed with the income tax. At odd times, however, I have visited the departments and worn out a pair of shoes trying to do something for my constituents.

"One rural carrier represents the sum total of my appointments since March 4, and he stood first on the eligible list. When Cleveland was president he had reorganized the diplomatic corps and the consular service within two months after his inauguration. Mr. Wilson has made only three diplomatic appointments and hasn't touched the consular service yet. He has been going on three months.

It is easy to see that the congressmen are now obsessed with thoughts about patronage. They are under pressure from the folks at home. Yet they do not seem to realize the pressure that the president has been under in the last two months in regard to questions of state transcending patronage matters so far as the welfare of the country has been concerned.

Another aggravating factor in the senate situation is the lack of leadership such as the house had under the guidance of Mr. Underwood.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, although earnest and sincere, is not equal to the extraordinary demand of the occasion with its many peculiar elements. He does not seem to be able to reconcile the conflicting elements that the administration has to contend with and falls far short of displaying in debate that masterful touch which is such a help to Mr. Underwood.

Mr. Simmons' former record as a tariff protectionist is also embarrassing, as was illustrated in a colloquy he had Tuesday with Senator Penrose.

In comparing Mr. Simmons with Underwood it is only fair to say that Mr. Simmons is hampered by the roary traditions of senatorial courtesy and unlimited debate, whereas Mr. Underwood had at his command the flexible rules of the house which can be shaped to cut off debate and railroad any measure. Besides, Mr. Underwood had, relatively speaking, a docile membership in back of him when it came to roll calls.

SUGAR SENATORS FEEL BETTER.

The sugar senators, although they are being branded as traitors to the party, are feeling much better over the outlook now than they have at any time since the president laid it down that he wanted free sugar within three years. They are beginning to believe that they will be able to force a compromise, providing for the rate that is now proposed in the Underwood bill and eliminating the provision that this duty be removed within three years.

In reflecting on the seriousness of the situation it must be remembered that President Wilson has not yet attempted to exert the full force of his leadership on the senate. That is to say, he has done nothing since the bill was sent over by the house and it is hardly probable that he will get into action until it becomes more evident that the senate leaders, themselves, are unable to control the situation.

He is said to be rather indifferent about intervening with a lot of men who are so jealous of their prerogatives as are the senators.

The Republicans, of course, are in high feather over the conditions that confront the administration.

Things are breaking their way, and they are making the most of it. The unconfirmed nominations of the president are offering them an opportunity to add to the embarrassment of the situation.

When the tariff bill came up in the senate again today there was a wrangle over whether it or Senator Kern's resolutions for an investigation of the West Virginia coal tarike situation should have the right if way. Mr. Kern finally agreed to defer his resolution until 4 o'clock.

An agreement to vote on the question of public hearings after five hours' debate was about to be made by unanimous consent when Senator William Alden Smith blocked it.

"The attitude of the other side of the chamber," said he, "is so arbitrary in this matter that I don't feel it calls for any generosity from this side."

Debate was then resumed on the Penrose-La Follette amendment to the motion to refer the bill to the finance committee. The amendment was to instruct the committee to give public hearings.

SHARP TILT IN HOUSE.

Secretary Redfield's broad intimation to the business that the federal government would investigate cuts in wages that looked like reprisals for the passage of the tariff bill brought out a sharp cross-fire of speeches today between Chairman Underwood and Representative Mondell, Republican of Wyoming.

Mr. Mondell declared Representative Underwood's statement that wage cuts would be investigated could be "forgiven, because it was made in the heat of debate." Secretary Redfield had no such excuse, he said.

"Every right minded citizen," continued Mondell, "hopes for the favorable conduct of the country's industries, but I know of no law which says any man shall continue to give employment to labor under adverse conditions and continue his business at a loss."

The Democrats, he declared, were revising the tariff with the people in a most favorable frame of mind, and it was "ungracious to warn manufacturers that unless they continue to conduct their business at a possible loss, they will be investigated to satisfy the high and mighty secretary of commerce."

UNDERWOOD TAKES HAND.

"The situation is just this," rejoined Mr. Underwood amid applause by the Democrats, "if you look through the tariff hearings you will find statement after statement of manufacturers that if a Democratic house reduced the tariff in the interests of the people they would take the reduction out of the labor in the factoreis and mills.

"Man after man said 'what reduction you make will come out of labor.' We intend that where these industries are making enormous profits, and many of them are, that reductions shall come out of the unreasonable profits and they shall not continue to make those profits at the expense of their labor.

"A short time ago you Republicans contended for a tariff board to ascertain the facts, that industry and labor might be safeguarded in making a tariff. Now that the machinery has started to ascertain the facts, you run to cover, you show the white feather because you are afraid of a fair investigation. We won't interfere with labor, but when a manufacturer says he is cutting wages because of tariff reductions, we want to know if he is telling the truth. If he is not and he is simply punishing labor, then the fact should be made public. If he is telling the truth we want to know it, it we have made a mistake in any particular instance we are not afraid to acknowledge it and correct it."

"Will you promise," interrupted Mr. Mondell, "that if any industry shows a loss, that loss will be repaired?"

"When the bureau of commerce finds," returned Mr. Underwood, "that injury has been done, you may be sure this side of the house will stand ready to remedy the injury."

MR. M'CONNELL CALLED AS TABERNACLE PASTOR

Congregation Chooses Him as Dr. MacArthur's Successor, Believed He'll Accept

By a unanimous vote of the congregation, Rev. Lincoln McConnell, a native of Tennessee, and known throughout the religious world as a noted lecturer and evangelist, was Wednesday night called to the pastorate of the Baptist Tabernacle.

The name of Dr. McConnell was placed in nomination before the membership of the church by A. C. Boatman, chairman of a committee of five that has had the selection of a successor to Dr. MacArthur in its hands for several weeks.

It is the belief of the committee and members of the congregation that Dr. McConnell will accept the call, though no definite statement has ever been gained from him.

Mr. McConnell is now conducting a meeting at Higginsville, Mo., and telegrams were sent to him at that point from Atlanta on Wednesday night. The formal call will go to him Thursday, in which he will be asked to fill the place formerly occupied by Dr. Len G. Broughton and later by Dr. R. S. MacArthur.

Mr. McConnell is well known here as the pastor in 1903 and 1904 of the Wesley Memorial church. Later he joined the Baptist church at Kansas City.

Of late Mr. McConnell has been engaged in lecture and evangelistic work, and he has several lecture engagements which must be met before he could assume his new duties.

He is forty-seven years old, a man of fine stature and address, and a great deal of personal popularity.

At the same meeting, the members of the church raised the remainder of the $12,000 necessary to secure the donation of $3,000 from Andrew Carnegie and finish paying for the big organ in the church auditorium.

THANKS ATLANTIAN FOR COMING TO HIS AID

Editor The Journal: I wish to acknowledge through the columns of your paper my great appreciation of the kindness shown to me by one of your citizens, young Mr. Rawson Collier. I was on my way as guest to the home of Colonel Traylor, who was and is to be my host as a commissioner to the southern general assembly during my stay in Atlanta. The colored man while carefully driving the cab, was suddenly confronted by two approaching automobile cars, which converging together smashed the cab and gave me a painful cut in the forehead.

Mr. Rawson Collier, though a total stranger, came to my relief, took me to the sanitarium of Dr. Elkin, who neatly dressed my wound, waited for me during the operation, and then kindly took me to the home of Colonel Traylor.

For this golden deed to a perfect stranger I thank my benefactor. All honor to Atlanta's citizen. May the Lord reward him.

At 4 o'clock the cornerstone of the new $25,000 public school building will be laid with Masonic ceremony. At these exercises many of the most prominent Masons of the state will be present. The whole town will join in a great civic parade in honor of this event.

The crowning event of the day will be the smoker of the board of trade at the court house in the evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

The court house will be beautifully decorated, good music and a good supper will be provided. Among those invited to speak are Messrs. Forrest Adair, R. F. Gilliam, mayor of Kirkwood; J. K. Orr and Hon. Alonzo M. Field.

President W. J. Dabney and Secretary R. C. W. Ramspeck are busy on the details of the various programs, ably assisted by a committee of arrangements headed by G. Scott Candler.

COTTON MARKET STEADY; PRICES LITTLE CHANGED

Market in New York Closed 1 to 2 Points Higher Than the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 15.—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 1 point on July but generally 1 to 2 points higher on relatively steady cables and a less favorable weather map than expected. Pessimistic advices from northern mill circles, and renewed private predictions of showers in the eastern belt, operated against any active buying movement, however, and the market was quiet with prices ruling around the initial figures.

Trading continued quiet with prices easing off to about yesterday's closing under scattered selling which may have been inspired by reports of showers in the Carolinas or New Orleans wires reiterating rain predictions.

The market continued quiet during the early afternoon with prices ruling about a point or two under yesterday's closing.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—Cotton futures opened steady at 1 point down to 1 point up, compared with yesterday's finish, and ruled slightly better than the mid named moderate buying in the early trading, but this power was held down by reports of rains at important points in the eastern half of the cotton region. The weather map, however, noted next to no rain yesterday in the belt at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 1 to 3 points over the last quotations of yesterday.

The market was steady generally until the middle of the morning when the trading months were 4 to 6 points up. There was a little buying power in evidence and the market gradually "eased" under local pressure, with no better temperatures in the cotton region and reports of clean fields as the result of dry weather this month. Except in a few spots, rains were not aggressive and the market did not display much weakness. At noon prices were unchanged to 2 points down, compared with the closing level of yesterday.

"The Gymnasium of Difficulties."
BY JOHN M. OSKISON

A wise and far-looking Boston merchant is now creator for a term which I want to pass on, as I am always planning on the many articles which are written about the many speeches which are being made to prove that the chief asset of opportunity is being rapidly close, to the average ambitious boy and girl.

"Such statements," he said, "have had a marked tendency to discourage even ambitious and well intentioned people. Instead of putting ourselves in the place of the men and women with small wages, with responsibilities which grow from year to year, without free time for outside study or work, we are tempted to ask, 'How can there be a way out for us?'

Study successful men and women, he advised. You'll find that in every case they have come up through a gymnasium of difficulties in which they have conquered. And in the "gymnasium of difficulties" you will discover there is no "short cut" to success. You will find that it will not finally bring to the men and women overcoming it "the ability to think straight."

If you can think straight, opportunities will stop in front of you and beg to be embraced. Mr. Filene, the Boston merchant, insists on getting clear and successful business experience that this is so in business.

In fact, business do not believe those pessimists who tell you that a lot of rich and crooked men have fenced off all the opportunities, and that they are prepared to keep you outside forever and ever. Don't make the mistake of thinking that our vice president is a mistaken optimist in his prophecy when he said the other day that backward-looking and inward-looking rich men must be warned against their selfishness unless we are ready for a war between those who have and those who have not.

If you learn to think straight in finance you won't need Mr. Marshall's warning when your surplus becomes a reality. You will have been trained to know the value of justice as well as the worth of a dollar—you will have learned that in the Gymnasium of Difficulties.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET UNDER PRESSURE ALL DAY

Lowest Prices Made in Last Hour When Some Active Stocks Went Down

NEW YORK, May 15.—Stocks were under pressure at the opening today. Almost without exception the active issues ranged under yesterday's close. The heaviest losses were sustained by Cotton Oil, which fell 2 points and Canadian Pacific, which receded 1¼.

Reading was suddenly hid up a point, causing a general setback in the American Cotton Oil weakened other fertilizer shares.

Steel was heavy and reduced to a minimum near traders undertook a series of selling movements. Their operations were not on a large scale, however, and they accomplished little outside of a few changes.

Eggs were in evidence at advantageous prices induced occasional rallies, but there was little effort on the part of investment to encourage active speculative operations.

Selling orders were withdrawn and the market became steadier. There was little inclination to do dealings in Canadian Pacific most stock on all rallies.

Speculation in stocks was at a standstill. Traders were non-plussed over the restricted business

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

THERE is so much talk among those who are trying out new fashions that it is interesting to watch the success of the effort to introduce colored blouses which do not match the suits.

This is a fashion that has had its chances for success more than once; sometimes it made good, sometimes it did not. Whether or not it will succeed this summer is all in the air, but the times are right for it. No matter what next autumn may bring forth in the way of demure and sedate colorings the atmosphere of the moment is charged with vivid colors. This in itself argues a season ahead of us full of fantastic clothes worn by the many. The well dressed few can always take care of themselves no matter how delirious are the fashions.

From the manner in which the shops are exploiting the colored blouse and fashioning it in alluring materials it is likely that such bait will catch many fish. Even the minority who may prefer to cling to simple white blouses during warm weather may be enticed into buying a colored blouse that has enough white in it to give delicacy.

We all become weary of the same kind of waist day in and day out through the summer months, and the majority of us wear them all winter, and it is human nature to want to change.

The first of these colored blouses came in striped silks, which are very much more worn abroad than here. Over there they are used for wide, long waistcoats in dark suits, which is a revival of the directoire costume for men. Over here the only touches that we have seen of striped silk are in the sashes of Roman ribbon which young girls are wearing across the hips on black and dark blue suits, and which older women are wearing as tight girdles, as revers and as facings to loose three-quarters sleeves.

Now these broad stripes have been made up into shirtwaists. They give an enlivening dash of color to any kind of coat and skirt and they have been repeated in the successful waistcoats which women will wear instead of blouses. These stripes are not always vivid; the first choice is in yellow and blue, the colors so much worn during the Revolution in women's skirts.

Brilliant Colored Blouses.

THERE are half and half waists, as they are called, which are made of satin and chiffon or of two of the same material. The deep yoke with sleeves is in one color and the lower half in another color. Harmonious contrast is sought, but the most vivid contrast is chosen. Cherry red with Chinese blue makes one of these half and half blouses and kings' blue and grass green forms another. White and black are put together less often than white and red, white and yellow and white and pale blue.

There are white moire blouses to correspond with the fashion for white and tan moire suits. These are trimmed with a good deal of decorative Persian and Turkish embroidery, which is carried out to give the line of a Turkish bolero. There is a belt of Roman or Cubist ribbon which is fastened in an ostentatious bow.

The shops have made a good deal of the rose fabric designed by Iribe for Paul Poiret, who, as you may remember, created a rather wonderful gown of it for the American buyers this spring; that fabric is now used with its single American Beauty rose and green leaves and stem stamped on it for the making of blouses. There is much of white lace put with it, which is necessary if one would choose not to look like a piece of wall paper; in truth, nearly all the new waists have soft vests in them of folded wash tulle and lace running from shoulder to waist. Sometimes there is a high collar; oftener there is not.

Some women who can dare much have gone in for brilliant red or green or yellow satin blouses with suits of dark colors. The effect is really inferior to the one given by a white blouse. Brilliant colors had their birth in tropical countries, but they can only be tolerated by tropical people in hot weather for any length of time, and the American woman who tries to wear a blood red gown on a day when the thermometer marks blood red heat is liable to lose her mind in the process. The combination makes one hysterical.

Cotton Blouses in Gay Tones.

THIS madness for color has not been confined to costly and ornamental waists, but it has reached the commoner fabrics. Muslins, and especially fine cotton sponge and Chinese crepe and poplin, are made up in colors or in white lavishly touched with color. Turquoise blue batiste and a deep rose pink will both be used for morning shirt waists with white and tan linen suits.

In their making there is a strong return to an old fashion which we once liked very much; a shoulder yoke, lowered armholes, seam beading everywhere, and the lower part of the blouse pleated to the edge of the yoke, which runs straight around the figure under the arms. There is a rolling collar more or less wide, finished with hemstitching instead of lace and long sleeves, gathered into hemstitched turnover cuffs.

With many of these colored blouses go brilliant girdles of Roman striped silk, directoire silk and the so-called Cubist silk, which have resolved themselves into that which designs the Viennese workshops have made a specialty and which is used so much in decorating. The design has a flat color for background and large round balls in vivid colors placed at regular intervals on the surface.

THE EVENING STORY

(Copyright, 1913, by W. Werner.)

NOBODY'S DOG

"POAH thens! Poah theng! Doan you gib up 'cuz dem onmarcful Gypsums went off and let you in yoah flictions. Sandy, he's gwine 'tend to you!"

The gaunt black-and-tan hound, that, with three broken ribs and a broken leg, had yet managed to drag himself to the long dead grass under the pokeweed stalks beside the creek's bridge, had reached the scale in misery that makes the near approach of death desirable. But the voice coming from the small bundle of tatters and tar-black flesh and kneeling beside him were tenderness, sympathy, encouragement and love.

The dog opened his eyes and attempted to respond.

"Da now, da now," the cheering voice went on; "nemmine tryin' to sheck yoah tail. Lem lip dis heah water, and den Sandy's gwine fix up dat broke leg, an' arter a while he's gwine tote you wha nothin' won't pester you."

Six months before, when the gypsy caravan led by Black John turned northward, he had stolen from a Texas plantation a blooded yearling hound. The dog had been reasonably happy in following the wagons of the dark people, but at the moment of breaking camp on Elam creek a fractious pony had twice kicked him before he could evade his heels.

Bitterly the hound was beginning to sniff the air and howl, when he heard the baying of hounds in the chase at night—a fact not to the gypsy's liking. The sense of justice and mercy was not highly developed in Black John. When he saw the dog was maimed and helpless he first struck the pony and then kicked the hound when he tried to struggle up and follow the wagons. Bitso, a half-grown lad, stooped to pick up the wounded dog, but the master forbade him with an oath.

Lysander, the nine-year-old foster son of Neptune Backwater, water carrier to his parents, and three other negroes cutting corn just over the fence, looked with pitying eyes upon this canine tragedy, and in an interim of his water carrying stole across the road to the injured dog.

With skilful fingers he whittled some splints, and with a section of the tail of his decrepit shirt, that he reasoned Georgian, his foster mother, would never miss, he bound up the leg. Sandy had been a "gift child." His mother had assisted Georgian in an unusually large washing, and, suddenly stricken, had died the same day. Her last words had been the solemn injunction that the Backwaters would keep her orphan. According to Georgian: "Whut's da fuh us to do but keep and feed de young us? Huh ghost'd come back and hant us fervер gin we didn't!"

An unwelcome member of a household is not weighed down with privileges. Lysander's realization of this fact was both wide and deep. He had been born with a mighty love for dogs in general, but for a long time, ever since the Backwaters had come to live on the farm young Taybait Helm, who kept foxhounds, the burning desire of Lysander for a dog of his own had been too great for utterance had he dared to attempt to utter it.

Late that evening Sandy carried the hound to a disused, tumbledown cabin, in a field a quarter of a mile from his parents' house. Here he made a comfortable bed of leaves and dry grass for him and gave him the half of a corn pone.

"I'd a fotched you somepin' moah, honey," he whispered, "but de chilluns lickt up ubbah mouffle, and half uv kawpone was all I had to bring. Mebbe in de mawnin', dough, I kin fetch you a bacon rine! You'l hab 'scuse me a keepin' you away out heah by yoahse'f ontel you gits well." Sandy's tones were full of apologetic regret; "hit'd kind o' tuhn pap's stomich to hab a sick dog around. I'm feered." When you gits well da'll be some way run me to keep you widout hidin' you."

"Da ain't no price da'd make me sell him."

Sandy always had been humbly obedient and a willing servant, but in the days following the accidental acquisition of his heart's desire he well nigh ran his feet off in continuous pitiful efforts to please Georgian. And when he occasionally asked her meekly for a big "cawn pone," she had not the heart to refuse him.

"You don't bring in no moah young rabbits, Sandy, like you jus' to," she complained one day. "Looks like sometimes when yous out in de fields you wont run up on dey nestles. Dey makes sich good flavorin' fer brekfus' gravy."

If skin that is the color of pitch could redden, Sandy would have blushed scarlet. His prowess was unchanged, but the victims of his hunting skill went into the breakfast plate of a black and tan hound.

* * * * * * *

"Where'd that fellow come from, Sandy?"

Sandy had brought his dog out in the mild sunshine in front of the old cabin, one morning early in December, and taken the splints from his leg. In his delight that the dog could walk, apparently as well as ever, he failed to observe the keen, quizzical gray eyes that studied him and the hound. But at the voice, the little negro sprang up, his rags fluttering, even his bare toes quivering in consternation.

"I—Mistuh Tybalt, dis heah is a dog what—what—jes' comed to me, suh."

Helm laughed. "Well, he's the best shaped hound I've seen since the national meet in November. I haven't got a dog in the park that beats him for ears and nose and general build, unless it's Old Baldy. Where'd you get him, Sandy?"

Sandy told him. "I—I wants to keep him, Mistuh Ty," he faltered at the end of his recital. "But I's turrible feerd pap and mammy won't lemme keep him 'count o' de eats!"

Helm laughed again. "You come 'round to the house every day and get scraps for him and plump out his hide a little! I'll tell Nep to let you keep him."

To Sandy the days that followed until the end of January were filled with bliss that black humanity seldom knows. As soon as Fats' leg was entirely strong Tybalt Helm "borrowed" him "to see what he could do." The hound proved his blood and training on the first run and before three weeks Helm declared with a few more nights' runs he would be the equal of Old Baldy, his prize winning hound. When he offered to buy him the little negro owner burst into tears.

"I—I can't sell him, Mistuh Ty. He's jest de same as a part o' me."

Helm was expecting Melbourn Rodney—a friend from Louisiana—a mighty lover of the hounds, for a month's visit in the spring, and he was anxious for his hounds to make a good showing in the friend's eyes.

"Come, Sandy," he went on persuasively. "I'll give you $50 for him."

Sandy's answer was almost a moan. "Please doan tell pap you wants to buy him. Mistuh Ty! Da ain't no price da'd make me sell him, but pap'd hand him over to you 'fo'h you could say 'scat.'"

"I'll not tell Nep," the young man promised, "and I'll give you another week to think it over."

Next day the information that the state had imposed a yearly tax of $1 on every dog within its borders came to Sandy. From that moment he could neither eat nor sleep. He could never get a dollar. The next five days were days of soaking rain. On the sixth day it partially cleared and Sandy, wandering disconsolately across the Helm farm, heard a dog's long, complaining howl under the cliff. A white hound, with lemon spots—Helm's Old Baldy—dragged and pulled at a trap—a trap set for a skunk under an overhanging spur of the cliff.

"Him sees da's gwine be a landslide terrectly—dat's de reason him's getting so rambunctious!" thought Sandy as he deftly released the hound's poor, swollen foot.

The dog leaped aside, but Sandy, hampered with brogans, stumbled. The water-soaked dirt and the rocks above crashed down upon him and bore him to the earth. Helm, searching anxiously for his missing dog, a half-hour later, discovered Sandy bruised and unconscious.

"De rock kim in a inch o' gittin' Old Baldy, Mistuh Ty," he told him, when his senses returned; "I jes' had got his foot out de trap when de slide come. Last I see'd o' him he was limpin' along makin' tracks todge home."

The next day Sandy, whose injuries had thrown him into a sort of fever, sent for Helm. "I been studyin' hit out, Mistuh Ty," he said, his eyes full of despairing resignation. "I won't nubbah be able to pay $1 tax on my dog, let alone a dollar ebbah yeah enduin' his nichel lifetime. I ain't got no business wid him, no way! I ain't nobody, and he's jest nobody's dog! I gwine put him wha' da's plenty to eat, and wha' taxes kin be paid. I gwine gib him to you, Mistuh Ty!"

"How'd you like to come to the house along with Cats and be my nigger, Sandy?" the young man asked. "You could feed the dogs and tend to 'em, and you and Baldy needn't be separated."

Sandy's bruises and his broken ribs could not hold him on his back. "De fus' minute dat Baldy yeah enduin' gross terzer Mistuh Ty," he cried, his eyes wells of happiness, "I gwine be da! Ez fuh Eats—ef you say de word he kin go dis minute!"

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.

"Peter Rabbit! Peter Rabbit! I don't see what Mother Nature ever gave me such a common sounding name as that for. People laugh at me, but if I had a fine sounding name they wouldn't laugh. Some folks say that a name doesn't amount to anything, but it does. If I should do some wonderful thing nobody would think anything of it. No, sir; nobody would think anything of it at all, just because—why, just because it was done by Peter Rabbit."

Peter was talking out loud, but he was talking to himself. He sat in the dear old briar patch with an ugly scowl on his usually happy face. The sun was shining, the Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind were dancing over the Green Meadows, the birds were singing, and happiness, the glad, joyous happiness of spring time, was everywhere, everywhere but in Peter Rabbit's heart. There there seemed to be no room for anything but discontent. And such foolish discontent—discontent with his name. And yet, do you know, there are lots of people just as foolish as Peter Rabbit.

"Well, what are you going to do about it?"

The voice made Peter Rabbit jump and turn around hastily. There was Jimmy Skunk poking his head in at the opening of one of Peter's private little paths. He was grinning, and Peter knew by that grin that Jimmy had heard what he had said. Peter didn't know what to say. He hung his head in a very shame-faced way.

"You've got something to learn," said Jimmy Skunk.

"What is it?" asked Peter.

"It's just this," replied Jimmy:

"There's nothing in a name except
Just what you choose to make it;
It lies with us and no one else
How other folks shall take it.
It's what we do and what we say
And how we live each passing day
That makes it big or makes it small
Or even worse than none at all;
A name just stands for what we are,
It's what we choose to make it;
And that's the way and only way
That other folks will take it."

Peter Rabbit made a face at Jimmy Skunk. "I don't like being preached to," said he.

"I'm not preaching. I'm just telling you what you ought to know without being told," replied Jimmy Skunk. "If you don't like your name, why don't you change it?"

"What's that?" cried Peter sharply. "I said, if you don't like your name, why don't you change it?" replied Jimmy.

Peter sat up and the disagreeable frown had left his face. "I—I—never thought of that," he said slowly. "Do you suppose I could, Jimmy Skunk?"

"Easiest thing in the world," replied Jimmy Skunk. "Just decide what name you like and then go tell all your friends that that is your new name and ask them to call you by it."

"I believe I will," cried Peter Rabbit.

"Well, let me know what it is when you have decided," said Jimmy as he started for home. And all the way up the Crooked Little Path Jimmy Skunk chuckled to himself as he thought of foolish Peter Rabbit trying to change his name.

Do You Make Biscuits This Way?

2 cups flour; 4 teaspoons Baking Powder; 2 tablespoons Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard; ½ cup milk; ½ teaspoon salt. Mix dry ingredients and sift. Work in lard, add milk gradually. If too stiff add a little more milk or water. Roll out on floured board to ½ inch thick. Cut and place in greased pan. Bake in hot oven.

They are delicious.

Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard

is the very best shortening for Baking Powder biscuits, because it has just the right consistency and richness to make them perfectly light and flaky and you can't taste the lard in them.

Silver-Leaf Lard is put up in tight covered, new tin pails under the close supervision of Government inspectors.

It is as clean and pure as lard can be and it makes such tasty pastry.

The Jewelry Girls Wear

It cannot be chosen hap-hazard. It must be appropriately refined. And that is one of the charms about the jewelry we are featuring for graduating gifts.

Daintiness is written all over the necklaces, for instance, which we are putting forward for girls. Of the best material and with just the right use of precious or semi-precious stones, the right prices, too, give them universal appeal.

AMERICAN FASHIONS

By Lillian Young.

So prominent a place among the new materials has the bordure obtained that modistes have of necessity evolved clever new ways in which it may be developed in a frock. Printed, embroidered and drawn work borders can be had in serge, silk, net, ratine, voile and marquisette, and run from three to fourteen inches wide, in solid tones or in the popular Bulgarian colors. The borders in thin summer fabrics are delightfully pretty and will trim a frock sufficiently.

For evening wear the chiffons, with flowered borders printed in blurred pastel tints, are most attractive, while the drawn work bordered ratines make smart street frocks.

Pale clover pink cotton voile with an embroidered border done in solid white is used for the simple and dainty frock of the sketch. A strip of the border cut in half is mounted above the girdle, covering the lower part of the blouse, which is of plain voile of the same color, cut with kimono sleeves and fastened down one side with a row of white enamelled ball buttons. The rounded neck is finished with a soft plaited mull collar. The sleeves extend below the elbow and are trimmed just above the elbow with a band cut from the embroidered border and inserted in a slit running lengthwise of the sleeve in front and back.

It will be best to cut a straight foundation skirt, opening down one side, from thin white China silk or silk mull, rounding off the front edges so that a small flash is left above the feet. This foundation skirt is then faced up to the knees with plain clover colored voile and trimmed for a little space in with another line of buttons.

The tunic skirt consists of two flounces of the bordered voile attached separately to the foundation. The upper one is gathered slightly at the waist and both are lifted in front to form the arched effect to the lower edge.

Bordered Voile Used in a Quaint Summer Frock.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille.

"Women detest superfluous hair on the face and forearms because it gives them a masculine appearance and detracts from true feminine charm. To remove superfluous hair cover the surface with a paste made by mixing a little powdered delatone with water; leave on two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

"Aches and pains cause the face to contract and form wrinkles. Mother's Salve, which can be bought in prepared form in any neighborhood, gives almost instant relief from colds and aches in back, or joints, sore muscles, rheumatism and neuralgia.

"The springtime is the season of youth, when every girl desires to look her very best. For a complexion of lilies and roses, apply each morning a solution made by dissolving an original package of maystone in a half pint of witch hazel. It corrects blotched, pimply and sallow complexions and leaves the skin smooth, white, soft and lovely.

"A shampoo that merely washes the head is not sufficient. The parasites that cause falling, dull, faded and brittle hair must be removed. Mother's Shampoo does this and leaves the scalp in a condition to encourage the growth of hair. It prevents baldness and makes the hair glossy, fluffy and fine."—(Advt.)

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After A Few Doses Are Taken

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substance that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.—(Advt.)

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Miss Duncan, of Oklahoma, Makes Few Plain Statements For Publication in Interest of Women

Chapel, Okla.—"Please print this letter," writes Miss Mollie Duncan of this place, "as it may reach, and help, some poor suffering woman.

For 17 years, I had been afflicted with womanly troubles, and had tried different treatments, but none of them helped me any. I suffered so much I could hardly bear it.

I had such drawing-down pains, and a pain in my side. Also headache and those awful dizzy spells. I was very weak, and could not be up, at times. I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I will say I am not sorry that I did, for it helped me wonderfully. I feel like an entirely new person. I can wash all day now, and attend to my other household duties, and not feel tired when night comes.

I intend to keep Cardui in the house just as long as I live, for it has done me so much good."

Cardui is the ideal tonic remedy for women. Its ingredients are especially adapted for women's needs. It soothes pain, helps weakness, nervousness, dragging sensations, headache, backache and other symptoms of womanly trouble.

Cardui is purely vegetable, and has no bad after-effects. Is good for young and old.

Try Cardui.

Walter Johnson Finally Scored Upon---Browns Turned Trick

TECH TAKES DEFENSE; GEORGIA ON OFFENSE

JACKETS IN STIFF WORK

Final Workout Before Georgia Game Proved Hardest of Season

During the past three afternoons Coach Heisman has allowed his Tech bunch to take practice a bit easy, but Thursday afternoon work will be the watchword. It is the last practice before the big game with the University of Georgia and the coach deems a peppady workout the vest best bet.

There is all kinds of speculation as to the outcome of the two games. In the battles at Grant field the Jackets will be on the defensive with Georgia doing the offensive work. Tech is now leading in the series by a two-game margain, ad Coach Heisman has instructed his boys to play defensive ball all the way in an effort to hold down the heavy hitting of the Red and Black stars. On the other hand, Georgia wants to even up in the series and are coming over determined to hit the cover off the ball.

The Jackets began playing defensive ball in the first game in Athens and are to keep it up. It worked quite well in the two battles over in Athens and maybe it will succeed on the local diamond and then again the Georgia hitters may slaughter the Tech slabbers and get away with the games by overwhelming scores. You must remember it is Tech and Georgia playing and there is no telling just what will happen. When these two teams get together it is just as apt to be a 1-1 game as one that ends 15 to 2.

Pitts and Eubanks will doubtless work the two games for the Jackets with *Morris and Corley doing the fing*ing for the Georgia bunch. It has been hinted that Cunnigham would use Corley in both of the games, but this is not taken seriously. Morris having twirled too good a game in his last out against the Jackets.

BRANNEN IS ON THE JOB

Former Georgia Star Flinger Helping the Georgia Outfit

ATHENS, Ga., May 15.—"Kid" Brannen, last year's baseball captain, and this year the coach of Dahlonega, has been in the city for a day or two helping Cunningham with his team.

The kid looks natural on the mound, having, if anything, more speed and curve than ever and his ex-teammates could not do a thing with his delivery.

Cunningham had Timon Bowden working out in right, as he will work Timon into Friday and Saturday's games on account of his wonderful hitting strength and speed. Timon has been on the bench almost the whole season on account of a bad arm, but he loosened up in practice and shot long right field hits back in fine style. With Ginn, McWhorter and Bowden in the outfield, Georgia has three track men who were once famous in prep school 100 and 220 dashes, and who have kept their speed in college ball. This is probably the only change in Georgia's line-up.

Although batting against "Kid" Brannen, who has for the last five years buffaloed college batters, is no fair test, still it seems that the hitting jinx is still with the Athens lads. Occasionally one would scream past the outfielders into the branch, and a few would slip over the infielders' heads and the fans would look for a return of the hitting streak, but then there would be ten or twelve sucessive batters who would not get it past the infield.

The usual special train will run Saturday morning bearing its phalanx of Georgia rooters and the Georgia band, and principally the population of Athens. Very few, however, are going over to Atlanta for Friday's game, it having been arranged to have a detailed "call" of the game in one of the local moving picture houses.

Crackers to Meet Pelicans

The Crackers have one more stop on their road trip of nineteen games and that is with the New Orleans bunch. After this afternoon's game they will sojourn to the City of the Creoles, where they will play a three-game series with Charley Frank's Pelicans. They will play on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

After their stay in New Orleans the team will return to the city and open here on Monday with the Memphis Turtles. That these games with the Turtles will be interesting is putting it light. Three times in the past series with the Memphis team "Dame Luck" has robbed the locals of games that were easily won. And now the Crackers are out for revenge and incidentally a better standing in the league percentage column. Luck has been against the locals on the present road trip, but all efforts pulling for Jinx to be broken when the team again hits local ground.

Motorcycle Rider Killed in Race

CHICAGO, May 15.—Leon Pitts, a member of the motorcycle team representing St. Louis, was killed last night in a collision in the opening of the season of the American League of Motorcycle Racing Clubs here. Pitts had won the second heat of the first race and was starting in the third heat, when he lost control of his machine on a grade and was struck by a cycle ridden by Harry Fisher, of Chicago.

Lowly Browns Team That Slipped Past a Count—56 Scoreless Bounds

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—The St. Louis baseball team of the American league, ended Pitcher Walter Johnson's string of consecutive scoreless innings with one out in the fourth. Added to his previous total of 52 2-3 innings, the three and one-third innings that the Washington man pitched today make his total fifty-six, equaling the best achievement claimed for "Doc" White, of the Chicago Americans. As official reports show White to have been scored on by Cleveland on September 9, 1904 (the year in which it is said he made his record), Johnson and his team mates last night asserted that the Washington star had made a new mark. The record said to have been made by Coombs, of the Philadelphia Americans in 1910 was 53 1-3. Johnson's record follows:

April 10—Against New York, eight innings.
April 19—Against New York, nine innings.
April 23—Against Boston, nine innings.
April 28—Against Boston, one inning.
April 29—Against Philadelphia, *nine in*nings.
May 3—Against Boston two and two-third innings.
May 5—Against Boston, five innings.
May 10—Against Chicago, nine innings.
May 14.—Against St. Louis, three and one-third innings.
Total fifty-six.

Riders Begin Using Track

The first motorcycle to be run on the new motordrome will be ridden Thursday afternoon by Harry Glenn, the local professional. The track is completed and all of the track has been surfaced. This bowl which has been built is new to most everybody in the city. It is so steep that a person can stand up and touch the side of the track with outstretched arms. The surface is banked to a fifty-eight and a half degree grade.

The riders before they are able to mount the bank must get up a speed of forty miles an hour and when they are mounting the bank must increase the speed to fifty miles at once. The motors used on this track are entirely different from the road cycles. They are specially built for track work and would be of no practical use on the road. The track will be thrown open Thursday afternoon for the first time and quite a crowd is expected out to witness the christening of the bowl.

The grand stands will be completed in another week and the first meet will be held on the night of May 23. The stands will seat something over 4,000 people comfortably. Prince is to be compli*mented on the excellent manner in which* he has handled the construction of the track and all Atlanta motorcycle fans are assured of having the cleanest of exhibitions along this particular line of sport. Keep the date open? The night of May 23.

Union Point Wins

On Wednesday, May 15, Union Point defeated Greensboro on the latter's ground. The game was slow and lacked the ginger that characterizes most playing. This is Union Point's eighth straight game, they having not lost a game this season. The score was 17 to 7. Union Point desires to meet any amateur team in the surrounding territory, providing they make sufficient inducement.

Tennis Team Is Selected

NEW YORK, May 15.—Maurice E. McLoughlin, of California; B. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia, and Harold H. Hackett and Raymond D. Little, both of this city, were officially nominated Wednesday as the American lawn tennis team for the Davis international cup matches against the Australians. The selections were announced after a meeting of the American committee. The nominations will stand for the matches at the Wst Side Tennis club here June 6, 7 and 9.

It is expected the players will all get into practice on the courts of the West Side club within a week and continue preparatory work until they meet the Australians, S. N. Doust, Horace Rice and A. B. Jones, in June.

New Players For Lookouts

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 15.—Wednesday's conference at New Orleans between Elberfeld and Andrews was extremely fruitful, three athletes being disposed of and two acquired. The men who will wear local uniforms are Outfielder Kelly, of the Jersey City club, and Outfielder Johnson, of the Spokane club.

The men disposed of were "Dug" Harbison, who was sold to Spokane; Roy Golden, who was returned to the Cardinals, and Eddie Troy, who was sent back to Detroit to be turned over to the Adrian, Mich., club.

Johnson, the Spokane lad, was recommended by Herbe Meek, the former Chattanooga and Birmingham catcher. Williams, who was secured from Montreal, is a remarkable utility man, but from Johnson, Kelly, Detcher and Elston Elberfeld must select two gardeners.

POOR SALARY IF INJURED

LANSING, Mich., May 15.—Should Ty Cobb, world's champion batsman and star player of the Detroit baseball team, be injured while under contract with President Navin, of the Tigers, he would be entitled to only $10 a week compensation, according to information received here.

President Navin had notified the industrial board of his intention to place all his players under the provisions of the state workmen's compensation law.

Cobb is supposed to draw a salary of about $2,000 per month or $500 a week. If injured, he ordinarily would receive his full salary while on the bench. But under the state law Cobb's pay would not be forthcoming. The law provides that when an employe is disabled he must be paid "an amount equal to one-half his weekly wage, not to exceed $10 a week."

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAMES

Atlanta had the crimps put to her yesterday for the third time by the Turtles in a batting rally that started in the seventh and ended in the eighth, with the Turtles one run ahead. The game was good from a spectator's point, but not much from the real baseball standpoint.

A terrific batting rally in the third won the game for the Gulls yesterday, after the Vols had taken a three-run lead in the first inning. The bases were full, and Jacobson tripled, then a sacrifice fly by Clark and a homer by Robertson completed the getting of the Vols' goat, and the going was easy the remainder of the way.

The terrific batting and fielding of the Lookouts was the cause of them taking two games yesterday afternoon from the New Orleans team. The batting of Street was the feature of the games. In the second battle the Lookouts supported Summers with errorless ball. A triple play was pulled off by Chattanooga in the first game that greatly added to the general excitement of the New Orleans bunch.

A wild throw by Smith in the sixth yesterday gave the Cincinnati team the victory over Brooklyn and kept the Dodgers out of first place. The Brooklyn team had the game 1 to 4 up until the sixth, and it was then that Smith heaved one away. Benton twice fanned Brooklyn batters with three men on bases.

The Giants have the honor of taking the poorest game of the season so far at the Polo grounds yesterday, when they defeated the Cubs by the ridiculous score of 14 to 11. The game was a see-saw affair from the start to the finish, and it was only a matter of which batted last as to who would win. The game was ragged, and very little, if any, interest was shown in the affair.

Michigan Athlete To Coach Gordon

BARNESVILLE, Ga., May 15.—Mr. Irvin Van Tassell, of Michigan university, *has been selected as coach at Gor*don for the coming year. Mr. Van Tassell received his preparatory training at Peddie institute and Blair academy. At these schools he was a member of the football, basketball and baseball teams.

After leaving prep school he entered Ohio Wesleyan university, where for three years he played on the football and baseball teams. For one season he was with the York club in the Tri-State league. This professional connection made him ineligible for athletics at the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in 1910.

Georgia to Run In Track Meet

ATHENS, Ga., May 15.—In the preliminary tryouts yesterday a team was selected to represent Georgia at the S. I. A. A. track meet in New Orleans. This team has received comparatively little attention so far, but after this week Cunningham will train them as much as the time will allow. There is some good raw material in this bunch, and they should get away with a point or two in New Orleans next week.

On account of the fact that all of the speed men are on the baseball team, Georgia will base most of her hopes for points on the weight throwers and the hurdle men.

GORDON AND U. S. B. MEET

BARNESVILLE, Ga., May 15.—Summers' field will be the scene of a lively prep battle on Thursday afternoon when Gordon meets the team of the University School for Boys from Stone Mountain. Gordon suffered defeat at the *hands of the Stone Mountain team sev*eral weeks ago, the game being replete with hits and errors on both sides. Both teams have been well coached and the going is sure to be fast.

The Stone Mountain team has in Vondereau one of the best port-siders in prep ranks, and a warm pitching duel will very likely result between him and McCord.

Seven to Good Then Game Is Dropped 8-7

Cracker Hurlers Blew in the Seventh Round and Five Runs Came Over, Three More Being Added in the Eighth

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 15.—The Crackers put up the rottenest exhibition of ball that has been seen on the local diamond in a long time yesterday and gave the locals the victory by the narrow margin of one run. The score was 7 to 0 until the seventh inning, when the Crackers went to pieces and allowed five runs to get in. Three more came in in the eighth, and the final score was 8 to 7 in favor of the Turtles. The Crackers outhit, outfielded and, in fact, outplayed the Memphis team from beginning to end, and the game took a turn in the latter part just as it has done for the other two. The Crackers got ten hits to the Turtles' eight and played an errorless game, whereas the Turtles made two bad errors. In the Crackers' half of the ninth it looked good for them to tie the score at least. The big end of the batting order was up, but they apparently made no effort to overcome the lead, and the game ended. Bailey, Alperman, Welchonce and Smith were the men slated in the last spasm, but their efforts were to no avail. The Turtles seem to have the gist of rallying in the last part and always coming in ahead on the sprint.

TO SUSPEND ENTIRE TEAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
LAGRANGE, Ga., May 15.—The fans of LaGrange are enraged over the showing made by LaGrange in two games in Anniston, where they lost both games, the first by 18 to 5 and the second by a score of 22 to 4.

A hurried called meeting of the board of directors of the baseball association was held Tuesday night in the chamber of commerce office and it is rumored on the streets that all players on the team will be fined $100 and suspended, the action to take effect at the completion of the road trip. Players are rolling in on every train, evidently having been telegraphed and phoned for last night, and it is believed that preparations are being made to work out an entirely new team here to take the place of the boys on the road at the opening game next Monday. The fans are terribly excited and all sorts of charges against the team are being made.

The new manager, Obediah Hill, is the sole support of the board, and there is no doubt that if he says the word every man on the present team will be suspended or released upon the return to the team Saturday night. The trouble is believed to be dissatisfaction over the failure of the board of directors of the baseball association to elect one of their number manager of the team.

THERE OR NOT?

The most hectic discussion we have heard all spring among the Bug Community was centered around these same Dodgers.

One fanatic advanced the pert idea that within five weeks the now hustling Dodgers would be back in the second division. This brought a wild roar from Fanatic No. Two who came near blowing wide open from a rush of words.

"Why shouldn't they be up there"? he remarked. "They have one of the best outfields in the league; they have a steady, hard hitting infield, a good catcher and at least three firstclass pitchers. Your dope is full of cheese. Dahlen has a regular ball club now and will be 1-2-3 with any sort of luck."

For all that, Brooklyn may be pulling a Washington uprising on us. The Senators were mostly junk for eight or ten years. Then suddenly, without the slightest warning, they arose from seventh place, dusted off the ashes and tore the league into shreds, nosing out the world's series winners of the year before.

Brooklyn may be coming along the same highway. There are times when one or two additions may turn a second division club into a flag contender. Dahlen has undoubtedly added to his strength and any one who lamps that Dodger crew at work can figure no freak start to date.

They are up there because they belong there by playing ball good enough to get there. Beyond their added strength they are fighting now with a spirit they haven't shown for a matter of twelve or thirteen years.

The club is well balanced, and unless hard luck assails it or its spirit sage should certainly finish well up.

Just how high up is another matter. There are three clubs to be remembered in the October counting who may insist upon reassembling tradition. These are New York, Pittsburg and Chicago. And then again, there are the Phillies. To beat out any one of these four clubs will be an achievement of more than passing note—yet Dahlen must choke off one to finish among the first four. He shouldn't have any great amount of trouble heading off St. Louis, Cincinnati or Boston.

But keeping in front of New York, Chicago and Pittsburg is a different problem with a matter of added complexities.

Mathewson is away on better shape this spring with his people playing second division ball than he was last spring in a runaway jaunt. As he is working now it isn't improbable that 193 will be the best season from a percentage viewpoint that he has ever known. The same is true of Plank, who is also embroiled in his thirteenth campaign. This pair—the longest serving in the service—were good enough to stalk home with ten of their first twelve games.

In the meanwhile there is no streak of purple fire flaming around a certain Mr. Stallings and his Braves, but no club is visiting that commonwealth today in pursuit of any cream-coated cinch. Where a clean sweep once prevailed for the visitors, anything better than an even break now is considered worthy of a number of cheers.

STOVALL TREATED BIT HARSH
—CLARK GRIFFITH.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Among the ball players here there is an apparently well-grounded rumor that George Stovall is to be reinstated as manager of the St. Louis Browns, the position he has lost, temporarily, at least, because of the trouble he had with Umpire Ferguson.

Stovall was here recently and talked with several members of the Washington party. He came to have a personal conference with Ban Johnson, who, however, was not at his office.

"I am sorry the thing happened, but that's about all I can say," was the former manager's line of talk when the subject was broached. Stovall is ready and anxious to make restitution, but his future course will be dependent entirely upon the result of his talk with Johnson.

It is said that Charley Comiskey, owner of the Chicago club, and one of the most powerful factors in the American league, has gone to the front for Stovall, and has asked Johnson to reconsider his action. Comiskey, so goes the report, is uncompromisingly opposed to allowing Stovall to escape without punishment, but he feels that to permanently depose the manager for the single offense is a cruel, unusual, and unreasonable punishment.

Clark Griffith is against Johnson on the stand the president of the league has taken.

"I don't think Johnson has justification to run Stovall out of the league," said the Nationals' leader today. "Attacking an umpire is a pretty serious matter, and should be dealt with severely, but when it comes to taking the manager's job away it is a different proposition.

"Stovall should be suspended, forced to pay a stiff fine, be publicly reprimanded, and given to understand that a repetition of the offense will mean he is gone for good.

"Furthermore, it should be stipulated that Stovall personally should pay and not have the check met by some other party. A fine of $1,000 would cover the matter. I think, but if some one other than Stovall pays, then raise it to $10,000."

LACK OF HEART HURT TO HEINIE ZIMMERMAN

If Cub Star but Had More Confidence in His Ability He Would Set Higher Mark at the Batting Game

Heinie Zimmerman, heaviest batter in the National league last season, has a weakness which, if he could overcome, might make him a greater slugger than Tyrus Cobb.

Any time Heinie makes two trips to the plate without getting a safe bingle he loses heart, becomes discouraged and after that appears easy for a pitcher who could not baffle him earlier in the game, according to one of Zimmerman's teammates.

Zimmerman's superb athletic appearance, his wonderful activity at third base, his fame as the leading batter in his league, naturally lead one to believe that he is a man of abundant courage. So he is, but he has his weakness.

On the field with the Chicago Cubs he struggles valiantly until the last man is out. He is true blue to the club, and off the field will battle with his fists until forced to take the count. He really does not know what fear is and would not back an inch for any man.

HAS ONE WEAKNESS.

Fans seated in the grandstand at the west side park probably never would notice Zimmie's weakness unless their attention was called to it. Even the expert baseball men overlooked it. The player who points out the slugger's weakness has been with him four years, is friendly with him and believes him one of the greatest ball players the game has ever produced.

The Cub athlete does not point out the defect with the idea of "knocking" his teammate, but just to show how even a great player may have a flaw. This player says Zimmerman is a perfect fielder, speedy base runner and while at bat steps into the ball with as much courage as any man who ever wore a uniform, and probably swings harder than Ty Cobb, Hans Wagner or Joe Jackson.

The Cub player, who unintentionally criticises Zimmerman, says the big third baseman becomes discouraged if he does not slug the horsehide for a single or an extra base hit in his first two trips to the plate.

BECOMES DISCOURAGED.

This is the weakness that is depriving him of attaining even a higher average than he finished with last season. Often he is compelled to take three healthy swings at the ball and walk back to the bench to make room for the next batter.

When this happens he ceases to be the tower of strength to the club he ordinarily would be if he had nearly taken the hand out of an infielder or chased one of the outfielders back to the fence.

He loses that determination to achieve something wonderful, unless he succeeds in connecting with one of his terrific swings on his later appearance at the plate.

"Zimmerman is valuable to the club when he starts off the game with a hit," said the Cub player who pointed out Heinie's fault. "I honestly believe ha would rather miss three meals a day and even a good night's rest than go to the plate and be struck out. I do not think in all my experience in baseball that I ever saw a man who hates to fan as much as he. I have seen him in games where he would abuse the pitcher for setting him down, even if the twirler was having a good day and fanning all of us. One of the things that makes Heinie peeved is when a twirler attempts to strike him out on three pitched balls. He thinks the fellow is trying to show him up, and how he does go after him."

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Why Does the English Pen Lead Our American Birds?

THERE must be a reason. Just what is responsible for this difference is yet to be determined. But when any one breeder in England or elsewhere can pick out a single pen of birds which will outlay 69 pens of American birds, and in five and a half months can get a lead of 169 eggs over its nearest competitor, we are inclined to believe that more than mere "luck" is responsible for this difference. After traveling on the ocean and land for two weeks en route to Mountain Grove, these birds laid their first egg in about three or four days after they arrived, and have kept it up consistently ever since. This pen must have been without feed or water a good portion of the time while being shipped. They appeared very thirsty and hungry when they arrived at this station, and there was no evidence of any feed about the shipping coop. Notwithstanding these facts, and the fact that they were jostled, more or less roughly handled, and transferred several times en route, they soon set about laying with a vengeance.

In view of the above rather startling facts, the question naturally arises, "Why are these hens from across the pond so far excelling the best layers which American breeders have been able to produce?"

The average person wants to know right away whether the English White Leghorns look any different from the American White Leghorns. Yes, they do. The Leghorns from England have a distinctive type, quite similar to the American Minorca. They are slightly larger than the American White Leghorns, more rangy, with larger combs, lighter colored eyes, and tails pinched or not well spread. In this difference in type, some poultrymen think they see the secret of the difference in egg production. It is indicated that the English Leghorns have more of an "egg-type" than their American cousins. Perhaps they are right, although there is room for a reasonable doubt.

Other observers of the contest declare that it is all a matter of breeding, that while utility poultry breeding in America is just in its infancy, in England it has been studied and reduced to a science for centuries. They simply admit that the American breeder has been out-classed, that he still has a lot to learn, either by experience and experimentation, or by taking lessons of his English cousins. The change in climate would not be favorable to the English birds to better production. The change of climate would more than likely increase or decrease the production and it seems to have had the desired effect in this case. We are of the opinion that back of it all, however, is a difference in selection and breeding.

Still other investigators strongly assert that it is neither a matter of type nor breeding, but that the high records which the English Leghorns are making at Mountain Grove, are due to the fact that their owners have become skilled in maturing and handling pullets so that they will lay just when they want them to lay. This is, indeed, some secret, surely when they continue to exert this subtle influence after their birds are four thousand miles away, and have gone for months and months! This reason would seem much more logical if the English birds had simply begun to lay before the American birds did—and then simply maintained their lead. But when, after the American birds had gotten down to business, the English birds still continued to lay more eggs EACH MONTH, it fails to hold water.

One thing is certain, the English hens are ahead, and it begins to look as though they are going to stay ahead. Their owners have very evidently "caught on" to something which the American breeders have not. Just what that "something" is, remains to be seen. Most careful students of the situation, however, are agreed that it is largely a matter of scientific breeding and careful selection.

The owner of the English pen which is leading at the State Poultry Experiment Station at Mountain Grove, Mo., states that this pen of pullets was bred from females with high records and also sired by males bred from laying hens.

We have been urging Missouri farmers and poultry raisers for several years to breed from high layers, or at least from good layers. We also insisted that the males which head the flocks should be sons of high layers. The latter is more important in our opinion than the former. Of course, it is understood that the breeding stock must be reasonably good size, considering the breed, and also be birds of high vitality. We feel that the average poultry breeder has been paying too much attention to color of feathers and show records that they have lost sight of the production of eggs to too great a degree. The English breeders made the same mistake several years ago, and, to revive an interest in egg production, they started egg-laying contests, and this pen of winning hens is partially the result of this work. We hope some such benefit will come to Missouri and American breeders as a result of the egg-laying contests which have been started by the State Poultry Experiment station at Mountain Grove. One thing is certain, promiscuous and careless breeding will never enable the poultrymen of this country to make any progress in egg production, or along any other line. Careful breeding and selection must be practiced if we are to make progress in any branch of poultry husbandry.

Yours very truly,

Lewis Somers

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION. Rome, Ga.

Will you kindly answer through your space in The Journal the following questions:

1. Is there any difference in the quantity of cream in the same gallon of milk, if the milk is placed in pans say two inches deep or in the churn say eighteen inches deep and six inches in diameter, milk sets twenty-four hours?

2. If any difference, what?

ANSWER.

There is no difference in the quantity of cream from a given amount of milk regardless of where it is placed. If placed either in a pan or in a small vessel six to twelve inches deep the amount would remain the same. The only difference probably that would affect your case would be that in skimming the cream you would be most likely to get more of the watery part of the milk mixed with the cream if removed from a large opening rather than a small one, but the amount of cream would remain the same in any event.

When cream is placed in pans usually it can be skimmed or rolled more easily than if placed in a deep vessel, and when a person sells cream or uses it and has not a separator it is better to keep the milk in pans rather than a jar or churn.

QUESTION.

Can you put me in touch with a sanitarium where I might dispose of several dozens strictly fresh eggs each week? We are in straightened circumstances, and I have four children and would like to do something to help things along.

Thanking you in advance, I am,

MRS. M. R. HALL.

ANSWER.

If you had given me your post-office address I could have put you in touch with some one who could use your eggs. This is a big mistake that many people make, not even giving their names or postoffice address in many instances. I answer most inquiries personally, and a quick reply can often be had if people who ask for information would simply do this.

If you will write to either of the sanitariums in Atlanta and can guarantee to deliver a given number of eggs each week most of them would be only too glad to make a contract with you. Eggs at 25 cents per dozen the year round, but do not contract for more eggs than you can supply.

QUESTION.

Lakeland, Fla. We are subscribers to The Atlanta Journal, and enjoy your pieces on poultry raising. I have thirty hens and one rooster that are all a mixed breed and they have become so troublesome to the farm that we find it necessary to confine them and as we never have had to care for chickens that way we come to you for help. Please give me just as small a pen or run as possible to do well and what varieties of feeds and how much to feed at each meal and how often, as I am not afraid to do much yet awhile so ask for small plans. C. S.

ANSWER.

You will find it far more profitable and much better to keep your chickens confined than to give them liberty. They can be kept under control, kept healthier and usually you can get better results when they are kept in a good poultry yard and fed a variety of food.

A yard 20 feet by 50 feet is large enough for thirty hens. Kill off the oldest and poorest of them and keep only the best, and if confined in a yard of this size with a cheap ordinary shed facing south and open on the south side, with north, east and west sides closed, these chickens will do well in a house of this kind in your climate. It should be high enough so as to be cool in the summer unless you have plenty shade.

The ordinary scratch feed as sold by most seed dealers should be fed in the morning in a deep litter or scratching place so as to make them take exercise for it, and either of the commercial mash feeds as advertised in The Journal should be kept before them constantly at all times in a self feeding hopper. They should have just what they will eat up clean at the scratch feed and they will usually know what amount of the dry feed to consume if kept before them at all times. In addition to this they should have plenty oyster shell, grit, charcoal and green food regular. If treated in this way and kept free from insects they will do well for you.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

TERMINAL DISTRICT

ONE of the best opportunities in Atlanta real estate today is in the large section lying in between the Southern and A. B. & A. railroad. This section is about four blocks wide and it extends from Mayfield street out as far as Bellwood avenue.

IN THIS QUARTER you can buy good sized pieces of land, improved with renting houses, property that yields a fair income and has speculative possibilities.

AS AN ILLUSTRATION, we can sell the southeast corner of Magnolia and Mangum streets, fronting 158 feet on Mangum street, for $7,500. This lot contains six buildings, five residences, and a store, bringing in $60 a month. It is one of those good corners that in time will be necessary in assembling a block of land, and will bring a fancy price.

ON SIMPSON STREET we can sell an entire block of frontage between Davis and Edwards streets, fronting 214 feet on Simpson street and extending back 150 feet. All three streets are paved and have all improvements done. This is the block with the old stone house on it.

HERE is a choice little factory site bordering directly on A. B. & A. railroad; the southwest corner of Fox and Wilson streets. It fronts 220 feet on the railroad and has three renting houses. Price $2,500.

WEST SIDE values are low in comparison with other sections, and they are sure to go up in the process of equalization. All forward-looking men should lay in a few west side investments for future use.

HEAR PARDON PETITION MADE BY J. J. MANGHAM
Former Treasurer Boyd-Mangham Manufacturing Co, Asks for Freedom

A hearing on the pardon petition of J. J. Mangham, former treasurer of the Boyd-Mangham Manufacturing company, of Griffin, was held by the state prison commission Thursday morning. Attorne yEugene Black, of Atlanta, argued the petition for Mangham, and Attorneys Reuben R. Arnold and W. A. Fuller, of Atlanta, who represented Mangham in his trial, were called to make statements regarding the action against him.

Mangham was sentenced in two cases growing out of the failure of the Boyd-Mangham company. In one case he was given four years and in the other one year. He is serving his sentence at the state farm near Milledgeville. Through his attorneys and in his petition he contends that he is innocent of the charge of embezzlement and declares that the action against him was the result of public excitement which followed the failure of his company.

The prison commission is asked to recommend a pardon for J. J. Mangham. At 1 o'clock, after hearing the argument of counsel, it took the petition under consideration, and it may be to-day or two before a decision is reached.

MRS. LONGSTREET FILES PROTEST ON MRS. HAM
Senate Receives Formal Protest but Mrs. Ham's Confirmation Is Expected

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet has filed a formal request with the senate postoffice committee for an opportunity to be heard on the nomination of Mrs. H. W. J. Ham as postmaster at Gainesville.

The request was presented by Senator Hoke Smith, and pending Mrs. Longstreet's appearance no action will be taken by the committee on Mrs. Ham's nomination.

Mrs. Longstreet is still in the city, and will appear before the committee in a few days. She thinks that an injustice has been done her and that she should have been reappointed on her record, notwithstanding her political sympathies.

It may be stated confidently that Mrs. Ham's nomination will be confirmed in due time, as her appointment seems to have met with general approval in Gainesville.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS HOLD EELCTION FOR NEXT YEAR
Last Day's Session Featured by the Choosing of Officers

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 15.—The second and last day's session of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templars of Georgia, was featured by the annual reports, the naming of important committees, the selection of the next meeting place and the naming of officers for the ensuing year. It was called to order promptly at 9 o'clock this morning when the Sir Knights got down to business in earnest.

Grand Commandery, Knights Templar Georgia, selected Waycross as next meeting place this morning and named the following officers:

A. G. Miller, Waycross, grand commander; W. B. Bowe, Augusta, deputy grand commander.

B. F. Hardeman, Athens, generalissimo; R. L. Wyly, Thomasville, captain general; John W. Murrell, Atlanta, senior warden.

Fred W. Clark, Savannah, junior warden; Troy Beatty, Athens, prelate; M. A. Weir, Macon, treasurer; C. S. Wood, Savannah, recorder; E. K. Farmer, Fitzgerald, standard bearer; John R. Wilkinson, Atlanta, sword bearer; A. C. Atkins, Cordele, warden.

The installation of these officers was a feature of the afternoon session, the impressive ceremonies being witnessed by the general public and a large number of the citiens were present.

From 1 to 2:30 o'clock a public reception was tendered in honor of the visiting knights by Sir Alderman commandery, to which ladies were invited and this occasion proved to be one of the most enjoyable social features of the gathering.

The annual Templar exercises last night were largely attended and deeply impressive throughout. The annual Templar address, which is always a feature of the meeting, being ably delivered by Eminent Sir and Past Grand Commander James L. Mayson, of Atlanta.

The report of Grand Commander Petri was among the most interesting made in years, reviewing work of the past and making timely recommendations for the future, and showing, as it did, that the organization was in a most flourishing condition.

DOG MUZZLING MEASURE VETOED BY MAYOR
Mayor Woodward Declares Ordinance Cruel and Would Not Relieve Situation

Because he does not believe that arresting dogs is part of a policeman's duties, Mayor Woodward Thursday morning for the second time vetoed the ordinance relative to the muzzling of dogs.

In his veto message he says:

"While I consider the provisions of this ordinance cruel, it does not carry out what must have been in the minds of the gentlemen who introduced it. It was evidently intended to reach worthless, roving dogs, who have no owners. That fill the streets of this class of dogs would not be muzzled if the ordinance should have become a law, while the good and valuable dogs would have to endure the inhuman punishment of wearing a muzzle. Section 4 of the ordinance makes it impracticable of enforcement, as it would practically take the entire time of the police making arrests of dogs, as it is made their duty to take possession of such dogs and to carry or send them to the station house. Imagine, if you will, a police officer in Oakland City or Brookwood, or out at Howells Station arresting a worthless dog and telephoning police headquarters for the patrol wagon to come to that box, requiring the time of two officers, the wear and tear of an automobile and the city furnishing 50 cents or 31 worth of gasoline to make the trip to go that distance and return with one worthless cur."

ATLANTA RATES ASKED FO RBY LAGRANGE BOARD
Hatton Lovejoy Takes Protest Against A. & W. P. to Commerce Commission

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Hatton Lovejoy, the well known attorney of middle western Georgia, is in Washington to appear before the interstate commerce commission in the case of LaGrange chamber of commerce against the Atlanta and West Point railroad and others, involving freight rates from the west to LaGrange.

The case will be heard on Saturday next. Lovejoy alleges that the present rates are discriminatory in favor of Atlanta and Opelika, Ala., as against LaGrange, which is the largest point between Atlanta and Montgomery, and has better railroad facilities than any adjacent point in western Georgia or eastern Alabama.

"LaGrange has grown remarkably," said Mr. Lovejoy, "this growth has been in those lines which are possible under such rates as are now fixed to the city. If LaGrange secures the rates she is demanding her growth will be as great in every direction as it has been in the present circumscribed lines."

"The LaGrange chamber of commerce is behind this movement as it has pressed all other movements in the past. We have the Atlanta rates from the east already, and we are only asking that this basis be applied from the west."

GEORGIA ALUMNI TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT
Atlanta Alumni of University to Visit Athens on Alumni Day

To arouse interest in the approaching ball games between Tech and Georgia, to give Alumni day at Athens on June 17 a big boost and make definite plans for the organization of an alumni bureau, all alumni of the university are requested to meet at the University club Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Invitations have been extended to every graduate and friend of the school and indications point to a big meeting.

There is no attraction that better draws Georgia and Tech students to Atlanta than the annual ball game, and it is for this reason that those back of the many improvements in the organization of the alumni system have selected Friday night as the time for the meeting. There will be in attendance those who finished school as far back as twenty years ago and practically all of the latest to wind up their college career.

Alumni day at the university is to be celebrated on June 17 and the Atlanta alumni are planning to make the trip to Athens in a special car. At Friday's meeting this will be definitely decided upon.

M'CANDLESS IS ELECTED IMPERIAL OUTER GUARD

Shriners Choose Honolulu Man to Succeed Ernest Kutts, of Savannah

BY RAYMUND DANIEL.
(Journal Staff Correspondent.)

DALLAS, Tex., May 15.—After electing Atlanta as the 1914 meeting place over Buffalo, N. Y., and Memphis, Tenn., and electing James Sutton McCandless, of Alcha temple, Honolulu, imperial outer guard, the imperial council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, today completed its labors and the thousands of Shriners turned their weary camels homeward.

The council granted a dispensation to the Mobile, Ala., temple and a charter to Montgomery, Ala.

The election of an imperial outer guard, usually the only contest as the other members of the imperial divan are advanced one office each year, developed nine candidates and an election was not had until the third ballot, when Jack Joiney, of Oklahoma City, former imperial potentate, withdrew in favor of Mr. McCandless and made his election certain. The Honolulu man had led in the first two ballots but lacked the necessary majority.

A precedent was broken today when John Boyle, of Utica, N. Y., was nominated for imeprial potentate against Deputy Imperial Potentate W. W. Irwin, of Osiris temple, Wheeling, W. Va. Formerly the custom has been to advance the junior imperial potentate to the highest office without opposition. Irwin won easily, receiving 347 votes to 80 for Boyle.

The warmest contest of the day, however, came with the selection of the 1914 convention city. The report of a special committee, recommending Buffalo, N. Y., was amended to include Atlanta and Memphis in the voting, and the Georgia city won handily on the first ballot, receiving 269 votes as against 67 for Memphis.

A new feature in the parade line was added this afternoon when the El Mina temple band, of Galveston, Tex., appeared in the streets in bathing suits. Some wore women's suits, while others were in male attire. They spent the afternoon serenading the local newspaper offices.

The temple at Calgary, Alberta, Canada, recognized in a substantial way the services of Jake Hartsough, of Dallas, who was appointed by the Hella temple as official guide for the Canadians. They deeded him 160 acres of wheat land in their province.

While Al Chyma temple, of Memphis, lost the 1914 meeting tonight they showed they were game losers. The Memphis nobles paraded the streets bearing a black coffin while their band played funeral marches. Then they serenaded the Atlanta nobles.

The convention closed tonight with a grand ball at the "Garden of Allah" at Fair park.

Woman Is As Old As She Looks

No woman wants to look old. Many in their effort to look youthful resort to the beauty doctor's prescriptions. Their mistake is that they visit the wrong department in the drug store. Beauty depends upon health.

Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weaknesses of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's feet," the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the faltering step.

To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for

OLIVE BRANCH OFFERED UNDERWOOD DEMOCRATS

Colonel Ed T. Brown Urges Underwood Convention Delegate for Appointment

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The adoption of a policy of harmony and conciliation toward the Underwood forces of the Georgia Democracy is believed to be foreshadowed by the visit here today of Colonel Ed T. Brown, of Atlanta, who was one of the Wilson managers in the Georgia presidential primary.

Colonel Brown is urging the recognition by the administration of Jake Tweedy, of Eatonton, who was an Underwood delegate from the Eighth congressional district, to the Baltimore convention. It is believed that he will succeed in landing a desirable place for Tweedy in the government service in the city of Washington.

The attitude of Colonel Brown, who conferred today with President Wilson, Senators Smith and Bacon and several Georgia congressmen, is regarded as sufficient refutation of the assertion that a policy of proscription has been adopted by the administration with reference to the distribution of federal patronage in Georgia.

The rejection of Albert S. Hardy for the postoffice at Gainesville is far from typical or representative of the administration's attitude toward the Underwood people, it is stated. The objection to Hardy came not from his mere advocacy of Mr. Underwood, but from the alleged objectionable tactics used in venting his opposition to President Wilson.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. L. WHO WROTE THIS POEM?

A poem recently published in two Atlanta newspapers as "said to have been written by Mary Phagan," has caused considerable comment. The poem in question first appeared in the "Household Guest," and has since been reproduced and accredited to that magazine b ythe April "Successful Farmer" and by other publications.

The poem follows:

MY PA.

My pa ain't any millyunaire.
But Gee! He's offul smart;
He ain't no carpenter, but he
Can fix a feller's cart.
He ain't no doctor, but you bet
My pa, he allus knows
Just what to do to fix a boy
What's got a bloody nose.
My pa ain't presidunt, becoz
He says he never run;
But he could do it just as well as
Any presidunt has done.
A presidunt may beat my pa
At piling up a vote;
But he can't beat him, I will bet,
A-whittlin' out a boat.
My pa ain't rich, but that's becoz
He never tried to be;
He's no lectrician, but he fixed
A telephone for me.
My pa ain't never wrote a book,
But I know that he could
Becoz the stories that he tells
To me are allus good.
My pa knows everything, I guess,
An' you bet I don't care
'Coze he ain't president or rich
As any millyunaire;
Whenever things go wrong, my pa
Can make 'em right, you see;
An' though he ain't a president,
Pa's good enough for me.

"Buy some ground and OWN your own home.

"Get away from paved streets and city dust and a life that is bad for you and bad for your children.

"Get out where you can see the sun in the daytime and the stars at night; where your children can grow up, noticing the change of seasons, realizing that such things exist as Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

"A man living in a city is nothing but a prisoner, free in name.
